Ella Swings From Coast, Gains Fury

Four Fishermen Missing, Feared Storm Victims

WILMINGTON, N. C. (UPI) — Hurricane Ella, stalled for hours off the Carolina coast, grew to "severe" proportions Friday, but swung its 120 mile an hour winds toward a course that would take it away from the mainland.

Although well off shore, the big hurricane kicked up sand storms on North Carolina's outer banks and sent 12-foot-high waves crashing into the beaches.

Shipping gave the storm wide berth and all Navy vessels and planes along the Virginia coast were ordered to remain on a standby alert until the storm has passed.

END WATCH

In its 6 p.m. EDT advisory the weather bureau ordered the hurricane watch discontinued on the North Carolina coast from Nags Head to Wilmington. Gale warnings were left up from Nags Head to Georgetown, S.C.

The weather bureau said that at 6 p.m. EDT the storm was located about 290 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras.

It was feared that Ella may have already claimed four lives. Two fishermen off the South Carolina coast—Edward Carter, 40, and Vernon Veach, 40—were reported missing in the rough seas. A Coast Guard search was under way off the North Carolina coast for a 44-foot fishing vessel, the Esther Pearl. The ship was reported overdue late Thursday. Two men were said to be aboard.

The weather bureau said research aircraft penetrated the storm Friday morning to make the reading. It said most of the squalls around the center had gusts of about 100 m.p.h.

The weather agency said a ship in the area had experienced winds in excess of 80 m.p.h. for well over 24 hours.

"At 9 a.m. it (the ship) reported winds of 100 m.p.h., seas 45 feet, visibility zero and rain and sea spray," the weather bureau said. "Paradoxically the ship apparently was only 6 or 7 miles from the edge of the eye where winds were 15 m.p.h. or less," the advisory added.

The weather bureau said another "puzzling" aspect of the storm was that it was continuing to intensify although dry and comparatively cool air is flooding the western and southern sectors of the storm.

U.N. Stage Set For New Bid To Seat Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union set the stage Friday for another assembly debate on Red China's representation in the United Nations. The United States expressed confidence the outcome would be the same as last year—no opening of the door to Red China.

In advance of a Monday assembly meeting the Soviet Union submitted a resolution demanding ousting of the Chinese Nationalists and inviting the Chinese Communists to take their place.

A similar resolution was defeated last year 36 in favor and 48 against with 20 abstentions. A U.S. spokesman predicted the margin would be even greater this year in the 109-nation assembly.

The Soviet resolution calls for the removal of the Chinese Nationalists from all United Nations organs and an invitation to the Chinese Communists to occupy China's place in all U.N. bodies.

DOOR WHIPS OPEN

Fall From Plane Kills Stewardess

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A stewardess was hurled out of an Allegheny airlines plane flying at more than 1,500 feet Friday night when a rear door suddenly opened.

The terrific suction through the door almost claimed another stewardess, but a male passenger pulled the second girl to safety.

Allegheny identified the lost Stewardess as Francoise de Moriere, a native of Paris, who had been employed by the airline for 26 months.

REPORTS TROUBLE

Her body was found three hours later in Farmington, a town a few miles west of Hartford.

The airliner was en route from Washington, D.C., to Providence, R.I., with stops at Philadelphia and Bradley Field in nearby Windsor Locks.

At Bradley Field, a radio message reporting trouble with the door was received from the pilot about 7:50 p.m. Two minutes later the pilot reported the girl had been "ejected."

The crippled plane landed at Bradley with the door still attached but damaged. The stabilizer was also reported damaged.

The door of the pilot's compartment was also ripped off, as were some of the panels covering the interior of the plane.

State police were questioning the plane crew late Friday night.

A similar accident occurred on June 13, 1956, over Shelby, N.C.

Gaylord bumped off five of the little devils Friday morning and seven the day before. The only directions she could give to where it took place, however, for reasons of security, were only "off the Jonesboro Road."

Close encounters with rattlers and water moccasins in Lafourche discouraged further explorations there, Dorothy says.

PIE PROVES DOWNFALL

False Alarm Calls Traced To Girl, 7

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Alarming phone calls over a period of two months have been traced to a 7-year-old girl who likes chocolate pie, police said Friday.

A promise of pie led to her detection.

Two months ago, a shrill, seemingly hysterical voice, said "My little brother is locked in the ice box and my Mommy and Daddy are gone."

Since then calls to police and others, who reported them to police, included:

"I'm baby - sitting and the baby has turned blue."

"Help, my baby is dead."

"My little brother is choking."

"My father is beating my mother, and she's bleeding to death."

The one that led to the child was to the office of the Borroughs Corp.

"I've been at home alone with my little baby brother since Monday," the small voice said, "and we don't have anything to eat."

A Burroughs employe promised to send over some chocolate pie if the caller would give her address. She did.

When they went there police found Linda Terwilliger.

She apparently made the calls while playing house with other children.

Her mother said Linda had been appropriately punished.

State Budget Revenue Shy Of Estimates

Cleveland Gives Report For First Quarter Of Year

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Chairman William Cleveland of the Legislative Budget Committee said Friday revenues during the first quarter of this fiscal year "came within a few thousand dollars of estimates."

Sen. Cleveland of Crowley said it would take another three months for the flow of tax monies into the state's coffers to set a definite trend.

DECLINES FIGURES

But, he said, "if the trend should continue, we would be within the amount expected."

The budget committee chairman declined to give exact figures on the analysis of the first quarter's finances.

The budget committee, Cleveland said after a closed meeting of the group, will know more after next Thursday's sale of state-owned mineral leases.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' administration has budgeted $13 million for this fiscal year to come from mineral lease sales and bonuses. Two or three more mineral lease sales may be held before the end of the fiscal year next June 30.

The committee will return at 10 a.m. next Friday and at that time is expected to receive the figures on the mineral lease sale.

The committee put off action on proposed spending plans of Concordia, Jackson, St. Helena and St. Bernard parishes pending audits of their school board finances by the office of J. B. Lancaster, state supervisor of public funds.

Cleveland said the committee wanted the audits for verification of school board figures.

The committee approved a balanced budget for Plaquemines Parish's school board, and the budget of Ascension Parish, which had been held up for further discussion.

Tangipahoa Parish's school board was asked to turn in a balanced budget. School officials promised to hand in one during next week, so the committee may act on it next Friday.

Powerful Atlas Missile Soars To Target Area

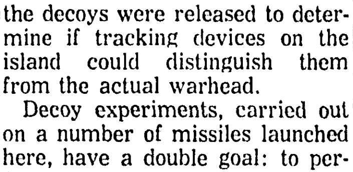
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —An Atlas F missile, spraying decoy warheads as it dived on target, was launched on a successful 5,000-mile test flight Friday.

The Air Force announced all test objectives were met. Major purpose was to further evaluate propulsion, guidance and other systems of the Atlas F, presently the United States' most powerful operational military rocket.

As the missile plummeted toward a target area near Ascension Island in the South Atlantic, the decoys were released to determine if tracking devices on the island could distinguish them from the actual warhead.

Decoy experiments, carried out on a number of missiles launched here, have a double goal: to perfect effective penetration aids to confuse enemy missile tracking radars and to determine best means of sorting out dummies from an enemy warhead launched toward this country.

The studies are important to the Nike-Zeus antimissile rocket being developed by the Army.



The weatherman followed up Friday's extreme temperatures with a "mild" prediction for today. Partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures are in the offing.

Friday's high was 85 and the low was a cold 47 degrees.

Today's forecast calls for a high of from 82 to 86 and a low ranging between 50 and 55 degrees.

Red Chinese Say Indians Open Attack

TOKYO (AP)—Red China reported Indian troops began big attacks Saturday, aiming to clear Chinese forces out of two disputed areas on their frontier.

The New (Red) China News Agency reported Indian troops supported by heavy artillery fire opened a frenzied, large-scale attack on Chinese positions.

REPORT LOSSES

The Chinese forces on the northeast frontier "suffered heavy losses and were compelled to take up resolute self-defense actions," the agency said. "Up to the moment of sending out this dispatch, the fight was still going on fiercely."

The Chinese said the Indian troops invaded the Kechilang River area north of the line that India recognizes as its northeastern border.

The agency reported Indian troops also took the offensive in the disputed northern India section adjoining China's Sinkiang Province, 900 miles northwest of the other disputed area.

It said Indian troops in the Chip Chap Valley launched attacks on frontier guards under cover of guns and machine guns at about 3 a.m. Saturday.

Earlier, Red China accused India of occupying 40,000 square miles of Chinese territory, and lying over the location of the squabbled-over MacMahon line.

The Communist New China News Agency said that China doesn't recognize the line as the border, but that in any event, the Indians have pushed the line five miles further north than it originally was located.

It charged that India is occupying 40,000 square miles of Chinese territory south of the MacMahon line illegally, and repeated earlier charges that Indian troops have crossed what China claims is the true border.

The news agency unleashed a propaganda attack designed to label the United States as China's co-enemy, along with India.

CONVENTION HERE

AGC Gives Nod To Bond Support

By SAM HANNA
World Staff Writer

Director Ray Burgess got quick support from the Louisiana Associated General Contractors here Friday on a proposed $60-million bond issue sponsored by the Department of Highways.

Burgess went before the AGC convention with a plea to "get out the vote" for the Nov. 6 general election when the bond issue will be presented for public approval.

Burgess and Education Supt. Shelby M. Jackson, who like Burgess pointed to Louisiana's continued construction to keep in pace with growth, highlighted an afternoon panel of speakers.

Earlier the AGC, which now has attracted more than 300 delegates to town, elected Jack Terrill of Shreveport president to succeed Rannie Terral of Farmerville.

OTHER OFFICERS

Besides Terrill, other officers included Edward Welsch, vice president, New Orleans, Charles Rollins, secretary, Shreveport, and Frank A. Barber, treasurer, Baton Rouge.

The convention ends tonight with a social event at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club following a busy program this morning featuring talks by Rep. T. T. Fields, Farmerville, John J. McKeithen, Louisiana Public Service Commission, William J. Dodd, State Board of Education, former - Gov. Robert F. Kennon and Mayor W. L. Howard of Monroe.

Burgess, who now has made 148 addresses on the highway bond issue, urged the contractors to create public interest in the general election, then urged them to ask their employes to vote for the bond issue.

"I want to thank you for the important role that you played in advertising this bond issue," he added, noting that an extensive advertising campaign would be conducted prior to the general election.

Burgess said the highway department had planned to let contracts in December provided the

James Wactor Escapes Prison

NEW ORLEANS (Special) — A state - wide alert was sent out Friday for an escaped convict who was sentenced at Monroe in 1960 to life term in prison.

Police identified the escapee as James Lee Wactor, 25, who escaped from a New Orleans hospital after being transferred from Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola for treatment of a fractured skull.

Wactor was arrested by Monroe police on Nov. 1, 1959, and booked for aggravated rape and burglary. He is a native of McComb, Miss., but was employed as a construction worker in Monroe at the time of his arrest.

SET FOR TUESDAY

U.S. Plans Launch Of Beacon Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Defense Department plans to loft a flashing beacon satellite into orbit next Tuesday to measure the earth more accurately.

The satellite is named ANNA, which stands for Army, Navy, Air Force and NASA, the participating agencies.

Officials announced the launching in advance Friday to alert the world scientific community. All foreign nations, including the Soviet Union are invited to help observe the satellite's blinking lights and share in the experiment results.

Earlier this year, project ANNA was classified by defense planners who felt that worldwide dissemination of ANNA's findings might enable the Soviet Union to aim its missiles more accurately at U.S. targets.

But many prominent U.S. scientists argued, and won their point, that location of American targets already is known with sufficient accuracy for the large payloads of long-range missiles. They contended that observations were needed from a number of countries if ANNA was to provide maximum information on the size and shape of the earth.

Precise tracking gear will enable ground stations to predict ANNA's position 600 miles above the earth at any time. This type data will help the stations determine when the satellite's high-intensity lights should be triggered by ground command.

By photographing the lights against a background of known stars, geodesists will be able to make better measurements between far apart points on the earth's surface.

Bans Arrest, Prosecution Of Meredith

ATLANTA (AP) — The 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals issued a sweeping injunction against the state of Mississippi and its officials Friday, barring them from interfering in any way with the desegregation of the University of Mississippi.

Five of the seven judges agreed on the injunction requested by the justice department. Judges Griffin B. Bell of Atlanta and Walter Gewin of Tuscaloosa, Ala., dissented in part, voicing serious doubts about naming the state as a party.

The Justice Department said in Washington that probably never before has there been as sweeping an action by an appellate court.

ONLY ACTION

The injunction was the only action on which a decision was issued Friday, although the judges had under consideration contempt charges against Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr.

Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle said a decision would be issued as soon as possible in the contempt cases. But he declined to say whether the judges had reached a decision.

The injunction enjoined Barnett, the state and its officials from attempting to arrest James H. Meredith, a Negro admitted to the University of Mississippi under

U.S. Pulls Out Units At Oxford

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Some 500 regular Army troops remained here Friday after the Army announced withdrawal of another 3,500 regular and Mississippi National Guard troops.

This compares with 23,000 troops in the Mississippi-Tennessee area which the Army said were on duty during the height of the University of Mississippi integration crisis.

The 108th Armored Calvalry Regiment of Tupelo, Miss., will be released from active federal duty at midnight Tuesday.

The last element of the Mississippi National Guard to be returned to civilian life was to start moving out of Oxford Friday along with the regulars.

720th Military Police Battalion, Ft. Hood, Tex.

All but two companies of the 716th Military Police Battalion of Ft. Dix, N. J., and various support elements.

The troops remaining in the Oxford area will comprise two companies of the 716th Military Police Battalion and some supporting troops.

With the trimming of federal forces around Oxford, the command will be handed over by Brig. Gen. Charles Billingslea, commander of the 2nd Infantry Division, to Col. Lucien F. Keller of Ft. Benning.

Red Chinese Say Indians Open Attack

TOKYO (AP)—Red China reported Indian troops began big attacks Saturday, aiming to clear Chinese forces out of two disputed areas on their frontier.

The New (Red) China News Agency reported Indian troops supported by heavy artillery fire opened a frenzied, large-scale attack on Chinese positions.

REPORT LOSSES

The Chinese forces on the northeast frontier "suffered heavy losses and were compelled to take up resolute self-defense actions," the agency said. "Up to the moment of sending out this dispatch, the fight was still going on fiercely."

The Chinese said the Indian troops invaded the Kechilang River area north of the line that India recognizes as its northeastern border.

The agency reported Indian troops also took the offensive in the disputed northern India section adjoining China's Sinkiang Province, 900 miles northwest of the other disputed area.

It said Indian troops in the Chip Chap Valley launched attacks on frontier guards under cover of guns and machine guns at about 3 a.m. Saturday.

Earlier, Red China accused India of occupying 40,000 square miles of Chinese territory, and lying over the location of the squabbled-over MacMahon line.

The Communist New China News Agency said that China doesn't recognize the line as the border, but that in any event, the Indians have pushed the line five miles further north than it originally was located.

It charged that India is occupying 40,000 square miles of Chinese territory south of the MacMahon line illegally, and repeated earlier charges that Indian troops have crossed what China claims is the true border.

The news agency unleashed a propaganda attack designed to label the United States as China's co-enemy, along with India.

AGC Gives Nod To Bond Support

By SAM HANNA
World Staff Writer

Director Ray Burgess got quick support from the Louisiana Associated General Contractors here Friday on a proposed $60-million bond issue sponsored by the Department of Highways.

Burgess went before the AGC convention with a plea to "get out the vote" for the Nov. 6 general election when the bond issue will be presented for public approval.

Burgess and Education Supt. Shelby M. Jackson, who like Burgess pointed to Louisiana's continued construction to keep in pace with growth, highlighted an afternoon panel of speakers.

Earlier the AGC, which now has attracted more than 300 delegates to town, elected Jack Terrill of Shreveport president to succeed Rannie Terral of Farmerville.

OTHER OFFICERS

The convention ends tonight with a social event at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club following a busy program this morning featuring talks by Rep. T. T. Fields, Farmerville, John J. McKeithen, Louisiana Public Service Commission, William J. Dodd, State Board of Education, former - Gov. Robert F. Kennon and Mayor W. L. Howard of Monroe.

Burgess, who now has made 148 addresses on the highway bond issue, urged the contractors to create public interest in the general election, then urged them to ask their employes to vote for the bond issue.

"I want to thank you for the important role that you played in advertising this bond issue," he added, noting that an extensive advertising campaign would be conducted prior to the general election.

Burgess said the highway department had planned to let contracts in December provided the

James Wactor Escapes Prison

NEW ORLEANS (Special) — A state - wide alert was sent out Friday for an escaped convict who was sentenced at Monroe in 1960 to life term in prison.

Police identified the escapee as James Lee Wactor, 25, who escaped from a New Orleans hospital after being transferred from Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola for treatment of a fractured skull.

Wactor was arrested by Monroe police on Nov. 1, 1959, and booked for aggravated rape and burglary. He is a native of McComb, Miss., but was employed as a construction worker in Monroe at the time of his arrest.

U.S. Plans Launch Of Beacon Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Defense Department plans to loft a flashing beacon satellite into orbit next Tuesday to measure the earth more accurately.

The satellite is named ANNA, which stands for Army, Navy, Air Force and NASA, the participating agencies.

Officials announced the launching in advance Friday to alert the world scientific community. All foreign nations, including the Soviet Union are invited to help observe the satellite's blinking lights and share in the experiment results.

Earlier this year, project ANNA was classified by defense planners who felt that worldwide dissemination of ANNA's findings might enable the Soviet Union to aim its missiles more accurately at U.S. targets.

But many prominent U.S. scientists argued, and won their point, that location of American targets already is known with sufficient accuracy for the large payloads of long-range missiles. They contended that observations were needed from a number of countries if ANNA was to provide maximum information on the size and shape of the earth.

Precise tracking gear will enable ground stations to predict ANNA's position 600 miles above the earth at any time. This type data will help the stations determine when the satellite's high-intensity lights should be triggered by ground command.

By photographing the lights against a background of known stars, geodesists will be able to make better measurements between far apart points on the earth's surface.

U.S. Pulls Out Units At Oxford

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Some 500 regular Army troops remained here Friday after the Army announced withdrawal of another 3,500 regular and Mississippi National Guard troops.

This compares with 23,000 troops in the Mississippi-Tennessee area which the Army said were on duty during the height of the University of Mississippi integration crisis.

The 108th Armored Cavalry Regiment of Tupelo, Miss., will be released from active federal duty at midnight Tuesday.

The last element of the Mississippi National Guard to be returned to civilian life was to start moving out of Oxford Friday along with the regulars.

720th Military Police Battalion, Ft. Hood, Tex.

All but two companies of the 716th Military Police Battalion of Ft. Dix, N. J., and various support elements.

The troops remaining in the Oxford area will comprise two companies of the 716th Military Police Battalion and some supporting troops.

With the trimming of federal forces around Oxford, the command will be handed over by Brig. Gen. Charles Billingslea, commander of the 2nd Infantry Division, to Col. Lucien F. Keller of Ft. Benning.

'Operation Chlorine' Proceeds Cautiously

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP)— "Operation Chlorine" proceeded cautiously but deliberately Friday as divers continued cutting away superstructure from four tanks housing a potential danger to 80,000 residents of this area.

Chronically ill and bed-ridden patients continued to be moved from the area in a giant airlift designed as a preventative measure for the handcapped persons.

Officials said divers made "good progress" clearing away debris and superstructure from the tanks, part of a chlorine-laden barge which sank 18 months ago carrying 1,100 tons of liquid chlorine.

An elaborate evacuation system has been outlined to the Natchez-Vidalia, La., area in the event of a mishap would occur during raising of the tanks.

Citizens in the area have been issued gas masks and can be seen walking down the street in everyday business with the masks at their side.

Officials stress, however, the masks are to be no excuse for anyone to stay if a leak were to occur. The masks, officials said, are for use through evacuation routes.

In Vidalia, R. P. Easterly, chief of the enforcement division, Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Department, brought in 24 agents to the area to supplement the Louisiana state police.

Col. Thomas D. Burbank, director of public safety, said additional troopers arrived and will work around the clock on special assignment. The troopers will man mobile radio units. They will work in 3-5 hour short shifts — in the event of evacuation — to protect the area against looters, Burbank said.

Col. Warren S. Everett, U.S. Corps of Engineers, said transfer piping and other deck fixtures had been removed from the barge and removal of the operating platform from one tank has been underway.

Divers, Col. Everett said, report the condition of the barge is as has been expected. Col. Everett said he anticipated no difficulty in removing the remainder of the operating platform from around the other tanks.

The patients have been flown to Jackson to the Veterans Administration hospital.

The next step — possibly next week — will be to lift the four tanks from the riverbed and take them downriver, probably to Baton Rouge, La. Wyandotte Chemical Co. which owns the chlorine, has a plant in Baton Rouge.

The tanks will be raised by placing a structure the length of each tank on the sunken tanks and then hauling them out of the water by a floating crane.

Admiral Felt Checks On Viet Nam Campaign

SAIGON (UPI) — Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander of U. S. Pacific forces, arrived here Friday for a four-day inspection tour of American military advisory operations against the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

A lull settled over the war areas although Communist Viet Cong units continued harassing government outposts and causing unrest in the countryside. No large-scale fighting was reported following end of a week-long government offensive.

A Radio Hanoi dispatch monitored in Tokyo said Communist North Viet Nam's official Communist Nhan Dan newspaper claimed the guerrilla war is making "good progress". It also rebroadcast a 10-point manifesto restating Communist intentions of overthrowing South Viet Nam President Ngo Dinh Diem and driving out the Americans.

Felt, who came here from a SEATO meeting in Bangkok, made no statement on arrival. He went to the Gia Long Palace for a 35-minute conference with President Diem.

After further consultations with Deim, Gen. Paul D. Harkins, the U.S. commander in South Viet Nam, and other Vietnamese and American officials, Felt will tour the countryside Sunday by helicopter to check on military operations. He will go to Taipei on Monday.

FRIDAY LUNCHEON

Women At Convention Treated To Style Show

By BETTE ELLEN SMITH

A glimpse of fashions for autumn through winter including the glittering holiday season, was revealed to women visitors attending the Associated General Contractors state convention, currently in session here, at a style show and luncheon Friday noon at the Paragon Club.

Fashions were furnished by The Palace, Field's, Silversteins, Sharron's and Rhealees, with models from Patricia Steven's Charm School.

The ladies entertainment committee in charge of arrangements was composed of Mrs. J. Hilton Heard, general chairman; Mrs. A. C. Breckenridge Jr., hospitality chairman; Mrs. J. E. Baugh and Mrs. E. O. Cooley. Wives of other local contractors also acted as hostesses.

For the first of fall and later into winter, the strikingly simple dresses in sheer wools, knits and jerseys, often sleeveless are topped with matching jackets for the costume look. In the dressy department new sophisticated knits appear in two and three piece ensembles whereby jackets, blouses and skirts come up beautifully coordinated. The new body skimming look is enhanced in many of the fall dresses by the overblouse, and some blouson styles are still in view.

Fur is important too in the fall collections, ranging from the fabulous fake varieties to elegant minks. Fur can be seen at suit or coat necklines often detachable, or in millinery to match its costume accent.

COSTUME LOOK

The muffled neckline look as decreed by fashion for Fall '62 was portrayed in the newest styles. One suit in flame red featured a neckline scarf, one end of which was buttoned to the jacket front with the other flying loose over the shoulder.

Sumptuous is the word for evening fabrics as brocades, stains and metallics run rampant for the after - dark scene. The metallics glittered in an ensemble of pants, overblouse and reversible jacket for at - home leisure wear as well as in a jersey three-piece costume of blouse, skirt and jacket. Described as completely-washable was a metallic print blouse shown with pants for casual wear.

Most dazzling for evening hours was the blister gold brocade costume of jacket and skirt with filmy chiffon top. A versatile ensemble was a deep rose costume combined a bodice of draped chiffon with identically matched wool skirt and cover - up jacket. A perfect after - five dress with removal of the jacket.

Chiffon was also popular in other short cocktail gowns, one in black with fringed side panel; an elegant American beauty with blouson top; a vivid turquoise, draped at the bodice with deep hem in the full skirt and another combining a chiffon skirt with colorful metallic decollete bodice.

Exciting fabrics for daytime dresses appeared in a paisley printed wool and wool challis. Mohair, soft woolens, basket weaves, plaids and tweeds all score high in fashion's coat favor.

LEOPARD POPULAR

Continuing in popularity is leopard, shown in the fake variety for a walking coat and in hats which were worn to complement a number of costumes worn by the models.

Whatever the occasion from early morn to late day Autumn '62 is destined to be a colorful season as shades rum the gamut from vivid through pale to muted hues.

Piano music during luncheon was provided by Miss Sarabeth Boughton, "Miss Northeast," and following a welcome to the out-of-town guests by Mrs. Heard, door prizes were awarded by participating merchants.

Following luncheon the visitors were conducted on shopping tours of the city. Saturday afternoon they will be guests at a matinee performance of "The Solid Gold Cadillac," by the Monroe Little Theatre. Concluding event for the convention delegates and their wives will be a dinner-dance Saturday night.

Ike Adds Two Campaign Stops

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has added two more stops to his campaign schedule for Republican candidates, the Republican National Committee announced Friday.

He will appear at Marion, Ill., at 10:30 a.m. Oct. 27 after a flight from Gettysburg, Pa. It had been previously announced that he would appear at Louisville and London, Ky., later the same day.

Site Purchase Depends Upon Improvements

Actual purchase of 9.75 acres of land in West Monroe for the site of a new Ouachita Parish School Board office building will not be made until certain improvements have been made on the property, Board President Charles G. Drennan said Friday.

"It is the general consensus of the board that we shouldn't pay for the land until the improvements are completed," Drennan said.

The board, in a 10-8 vote, has approved the purchase of the land for $31,500 from Tom Sanders of West Monroe.

Sanders has proposed to improve the property as part of the sale agreement with the school board. His proposals include a blacktop street, sewage, water and drainage.

The property is located just behind the Parkwood subdivision in West Monroe, off the Thomas Road and next to the I-20 Highway now under construction.

Sanders has proposed to provide an eight - inch clay sewer line connecting to a 24 - inch mainline owned by the City of West Monroe, and a six - inch cast - iron water main with a regulation fire hydrant which would connect with a six - inch line at the corner of Tupelo Drive and Parkwood Avenue.

Parkwood Avenue, which runs through the heart of Parkwood subdivision, will be extended from Tupelo Drive to the service road connecting I-20, Sanders said. He added that the extension of Parkwood Avenue will have a right-of-way 60 feet wide with a crown of not less than 40 feet with a strip of hotmix asphalt 22 feet wide placed over not less than a six - inch pitrun gravel base, he explained.

Regarding the dirt that has been removed from the property, Sanders said that "the elevation will be leveled to provide proper drainage to the east and at no point will the elevation be less than six feet above the natural elevation of the low area east of the property."

Group Plans Alabama U. Race Mix Try

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A Negro integration leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., said Friday five Negro students will apply in the next few days for admission to the University of Alabama, a segregated institution.

King said he and three other Southern Christian Leadership Conference leaders plan to organize an SCLC chapter to be called the Alabama State Conference.

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, SCLC treasurer, said one of the purposes of the group would be to aid students who are desirous of entering the University of Alabama.

King, president of the SCLC, said he talked with five students "who solicited our aid and support as they apply to the University of Alabama."

"They are applying as a result of their own desire and own choice," King said. "We did not pick them."

He said, "We talked with them and assured them of our support."

King would not identify the students, but said they were students from another college and would apply for transfers.

The University of Alabama was integrated once before by a Negro woman, Autherine Lucy, who entered the school under a federal court order in 1956.

She had applied and was admitted by order of U.S. District Court Judge Hobart H. Grooms.

Upon arrival at the university, she was driven from the campus by a mob. Grooms ordered her readmitted.

She then was expelled by the university's board of trustees for accusing school authorities of conspiring with the mob.

Alabama Gov. John Patterson was out of town and was not available for comment on King's statement.

STATE CONVENTION

Home Builders Elect Monroyan

SHREVEPORT (Special) — A building crisis in Cuba and one just past in Mississippi provided the meat of an address Friday night before the annual banquet of the Louisiana Homebuilders Association convention in Shreveport.

In the election of officers Friday, Monroe's Lee Booth was named president of the organization, succeeding Don S. White of Shreveport. Other officers include Jack Dewald, Lake Charles, first vice president; Hab Monsour, Alexandria, second vice president; Harry Hebert, Lafayette, secretary; and Buddy Eanes, Baton Rouge, treasurer.

Fourth District U. S. Rep. Joe Waggonner told an audience of home construction officials from throughout Louisiana meeting at the East Ridge Country Club that "President Kennedy is being advised by people who say we can't do anything, anywhere at any time to make anybody mad."

He said Cuba presently was the site of 15 surface to air missile bases, with at least 10 more under construction, with ranges of up to 700 miles; he added, in his opinion, capabilities would be extended to 1400 miles in a short time.

Turning to Mississippi and recent racial disturbances on the University of Mississippi campus at Oxford, the junior lawmaker said simply, "You know how I feel and how most people in the South feel, but people outside the South generally think he (Kennedy) was justified in sending troops."

Waggonner's address came as the climax to the first of two days activity at the statewide meeting. Remarks were delivered earlier in the day by Louisiana Public Service Commissioner John McKeithen and by George C. Bucher, of the Marshal Space Research Center at Huntsville, Ala.

Closing the program today will be a series of panel discussions.

Charges Hurled At De Gaulle's Vote Ultimatum

PARIS (UPI) — Opponents of Prsident Charles De Gaulle charged Friday he is seeking to panic the nation into voting "yes" in the constitutional referendum by threatening to resign unless he receives massive support.

They accused De Gaulle of trying to do away with parliamentary government in France and seeking to substitute a virtual monarchy for the current regime.

France will vote Oct. 28 in a nationwide referendum on De Gaulle's plan to have future presidents elected by direct vote of the people instead of by a limited college of some 50,000 "grand electors."

Meredith Leaves Ole Miss Campus

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — James H. Meredith left the University of Mississippi campus in a 5-car caravan Friday after ending his third week of classes.

The 29-year-old Air Force veteran, accompanied by 11 U. S. marshals, drove off in the direction of Memphis, Tenn., where he spent the past weekend with his wife and their small child.

Sanders has proposed to improve the property as part of the sale agreement with the school board. His proposals include a blacktop street, sewage, water and drainage.

The property is located just behind the Parkwood subdivision in West Monroe, off the Thomas Road and next to the I-20 Highway now under construction.

Sanders has proposed to provide an eight - inch clay sewer line connecting to a 24 - inch mainline owned by the City of West Monroe, and a six - inch cast - iron water main with a regulation fire hydrant which would connect with a six - inch line at the corner of Tupelo Drive and Parkwood Avenue.

Parkwood Avenue, which runs through the heart of Parkwood subdivision, will be extended from Tupelo Drive to the service road connecting I-20, Sanders said. He added that the extension of Parkwood Avenue will have a right-of-way 60 feet wide with a crown of not less than 40 feet with a strip of hotmix asphalt 22 feet wide placed over not less than a six - inch pitrun gravel base, he explained.

Regarding the dirt that has been removed from the property, Sanders said that "the elevation will be leveled to provide proper drainage to the east and at no point will the elevation be less than six feet above the natural elevation of the low area east of the property."

Also chosen at the group's final session was state Rep. Richard H. Cory of Texas as vice chairman.

Group Plans Alabama U. Race Mix Try

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A Negro integration leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., said Friday five Negro students will apply in the next few days for admission to the University of Alabama, a segregated institution.

King said he and three other Southern Christian Leadership Conference leaders plan to organize an SCLC chapter to be called the Alabama State Conference.

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, SCLC treasurer, said one of the purposes of the group would be to aid students who are desirous of entering the University of Alabama.

King, president of the SCLC, said he talked with five students "who solicited our aid and support as they apply to the University of Alabama."

"They are applying as a result of their own desire and own choice," King said. "We did not pick them."

He said, "We talked with them and assured them of our support."

King would not identify the students, but said they were students from another college and would apply for transfers.

The University of Alabama was integrated once before by a Negro woman, Autherine Lucy, who entered the school under a federal court order in 1956.

She had applied and was admitted by order of U.S. District Court Judge Hobart H. Grooms.

Upon arrival at the university, she was driven from the campus by a mob. Grooms ordered her readmitted.

She then was expelled by the university's board of trustees for accusing school authorities of conspiring with the mob.

Alabama Gov. John Patterson was out of town and was not available for comment on King's statement.

STATE CONVENTION

Home Builders Elect Monroyan

SHREVEPORT (Special) — A building crisis in Cuba and one just past in Mississippi provided the meat of an address Friday night before the annual banquet of the Louisiana Homebuilders Association convention in Shreveport.

In the election of officers Friday, Monroe's Lee Booth was named president of the organization, succeeding Don S. White of Shreveport. Other officers include Jack Dewald, Lake Charles, first vice president; Hab Monsour, Alexandria, second vice president; Harry Hebert, Lafayette, secretary; and Buddy Eanes, Baton Rouge, treasurer.

Fourth District U. S. Rep. Joe Waggonner told an audience of home construction officials from throughout Louisiana meeting at the East Ridge Country Club that "President Kennedy is being advised by people who say we can't do anything, anywhere at any time to make anybody mad."

He said Cuba presently was the site of 15 surface to air missile bases, with at least 10 more under construction, with ranges of up to 700 miles; he added, in his opinion, capabilities would be extended to 1400 miles in a short time.

Turning to Mississippi and recent racial disturbances on the University of Mississippi campus at Oxford, the junior lawmaker said simply, "You know how I feel and how most people in the South feel, but people outside the South generally think he (Kennedy) was justified in sending troops."

Waggonner's address came as the climax to the first of two days activity at the statewide meeting. Remarks were delivered earlier in the day by Louisiana Public Service Commissioner John McKeithen and by George C. Bucher, of the Marshal Space Research Center at Huntsville, Ala.

Closing the program today will be a series of panel discussions.

Meredith Leaves Ole Miss Campus

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — James H. Meredith left the University of Mississippi campus in a 5-car caravan Friday after ending his third week of classes.

The 29-year-old Air Force veteran, accompanied by 11 U. S. marshals, drove off in the direction of Memphis, Tenn., where he spent the past weekend with his wife and their small child.

Charges Hurled At De Gaulle's Vote Ultimatum

PARIS (UPI) — Opponents of Prsident Charles De Gaulle charged Friday he is seeking to panic the nation into voting "yes" in the constitutional referendum by threatening to resign unless he receives massive support.

They accused De Gaulle of trying to do away with parliamentary government in France and seeking to substitute a virtual monarchy for the current regime.

France will vote Oct. 28 in a nationwide referendum on De Gaulle's plan to have future presidents elected by direct vote of the people instead of by a limited college of some 50,000 "grand electors."

Optimists Urged To Show Need For Studying

The executive director of the Louisiana Municipal Association urged the Monroe Optimist Club Friday to impress on today's students the need for studying government and the value of considering politics as a career.

Sidney Gray told Optimists "the candidates for governor and president in 1994 are in high school now," adding "the nation with a most unpolitical tradition has now become the nation that most urgently needs political understanding."

The former Lake Charles mayor pointed out the United States has become more involved in world affairs than "the country's founding fathers ever imagined it would be."

Gray arrived in Monroe Friday where he will attend the annual conference of the Louisiana Municipal Clerks Association Sunday and Monday.

No Action Taken On Dirt Fill At Riser Elementary

No action was taken Friday by the Ouachita Parish School Board building committee in the study of a request for the board to finance additional fill dirt at the site of the new Riser Elementary and Junior High School in West Monroe.

"We reached no decision," George Rorex, chairman of the building committee, said after his group met at the site to study the matter.

He said that Architect Beuford Jacka will conduct further study on the situation, with his report to be submitted later at a meeting of the board. Next regular meeting of the school board is slated Nov. 6.

A request to finance additional fill dirt, at a cost exceeding $28,000, in the construction of the new school was presented by Jacka last Tuesday night at a meeting of the board. At that time, the matter was referred to the building committee for study.

Bid for construction of the Riser school was let Sept. 18 by the board. Jesse F. Heard and Sons Const. Co. of West Monroe was awarded the contract on a low bid of $1,007,948.

However, construction has not started pending the board's action on the fill dirt request.

Six Indicted For Georgia Night Foray

DALLAS, Ga. (AP)—Six white men have been indicted on charges resulting from a night rider foray in which a white man was shot and killed by a Negro woman at her home.

The indictments charged them with assault, riot, shooting into an occupied dwelling and violations of the state's antimask law. The indictments were returned Thursday.

The indicted are Billy Gamel, 18; Jimmy Humphreys, 19; M. A. Nichols about 40; B. F. Parker, 26; Gene Ables, about 30; and Joyt Prather, 25. They might be tried at a county Superior Court term beginning Monday.

They were arrested after a band of masked men converged on a home the night of Sept. 5, a few days before the state's Democratic primary election.

Rebecca Wilson, who was inside, said the men knocked on the door and announced that they wanted to "sell a little politics and leave you a card."

Just what they meant has never been made clear.

Mrs. Wilson, a housemaid, said she yelled that she did not want to see the men and got a revolver. One of the men, she added, jammed a pistol through a crack in the door and she saw that they all were masked.

With that, she related, she opened fire and her shots were returned.

Kennedy Ignores People

President Kennedy either is completely insensitive to the mood of the people or is stubbornly trying to play along the line toward socialism in spite of that mood.

The president forgets that he was elected by the tiniest of margins and, therefore, lacks a mandate to extend socialism to America. Furthermore, people who voted for Kennedy because of his so-called "liberal" views had no idea that he not only would pull for complete socialization but would extend more friendship to communist nations and people than to the democracies and their citizens.

Perhaps it is well that Kennedy is adopting an extreme stand. Then the elections this fall will provide the country with a true test of its sentiment.

Some conservatives may fear such a test but there is really nothing to fear. One must depend on the good sense of the American people in gauging what is in their best interest. Conservatism is not a doctrine imposed on the people from above, as is the state socialism of the New Frontier. Conservatism is simply what the American people feel deeply in their hearts. It is their essential soundness and common-sense approach to national problems and to the necessity of preserving democracy and individual freedom, as opposed to bureaucracy and dictatorship.

It is all - important, however, that the voters see the issues of the November elections in terms of the clash between American conservatism and socialism, which is fundamentally an alien philosophy.

The contests for congress must be understood as a battle between spokesmen for a genuine, broad-scale Americanism and a radicalism of the type that will destroy individual freedom. This is especially true in the south, where, for many years, political issues have been seen in terms of personalities and where political leaders have had highly personal followings.

Voters must teach themselves to see beyond the old-line politicians who say they are conservative but support the Kennedys.

Support of the Kennedys is the acid test in the coming congressional elections. If a politician gives aid and comfort to the Kennedys he cannot claim to be a conservative.

In Louisiana generally and in some other southern states the die has already been cast as far as congressional candidates are concerned because, in many cases, there are no opponents of the Democratic nominees. Further, we know that some of the southern Democrats now serving in congress will not go along with Kennedy's socialism. Still, whenever there is opportunity, the citizens should cast protest votes against Kennedy insofar as possible. This could include voting for Republican candidates if there is any indication that the Democrat candidates are more radical than the Republicans.

Now that congress has adjourned, after the longest session in 11 years, Kennedy and his radical New Frontiersmen are making strenuous efforts to persuade the people that they chalked up a splendid record of accomplishment in congress.

This job of persuasion will be difficult, if not impossible. The record shows that positive accomplishments of congress were made by the conservative coalition, and these consisted of blocking New Frontier schemes or weakening the effects of the radical leftwing legislative programs.

Some of the principal New Frontier crowing has been over the passage of the trade expansion act but that could hardly be called a Kennedy victory. If it had not had the approval of many influential conservative leaders, who believed that participation in the European Common Market might be necessary to preserve United States world trade, the bill never would have gone to the president for his signature.

When it came to socialistic legislation most desired by the white house palace guardsmen, Kennedy suffered bitter reverses. One of the notable victories for the conservatives was the defeat of the urban affairs department bill the Kennedy administration wanted. If this bill had been adopted, it would have gone far toward putting municipal government under total federal control, but congress turned thumbs down on it.

Congress also rejected the medicare bill which would have moved the nation in the direction of a socialistic medical plan such as retarded both the medical profession and medical care in Great Britain and which would have sadly worsened the Louisiana plan for caring for the sick and indigent.

Today we need a clear-cut repudiation of the New Frontier and its radical-socialism.

Government must be taken away from the minority interests and returned to the broad mass of citizens.

Increasing conservative strength in congress this fall is the essential first step toward a return of good government to Washington.

Harry's Haberdashery

Why is it that practically every politician will brag about being raised on the farm but will dodge some of the city episodes of his life.

The more "country," or "back in the sticks" the politicians can make it the better they like it. Some will tell you that when they first ran for justice of the peace they walked barefoot over the whole voting area, carrying their shoes along and putting them on just before arriving for a speech, so they wouldn't wear them out.

Take Harry Truman, for instance. Harry was once president of the United States and isn't seeking any office higher than that, but he still likes to think the politicians do what he tells them to do.

In his biographical in Who's Who in America, Truman mentions that he operated the family farm from 1906 to 1917 and even admits that he was once a timekeeper for a railroad contractor.

But there is no mention of the haberdashery he owned and operated with his friend, Eddie Jacobs, in spite of the fact that many people think he got his political start by "chinning" with the officeholders who came in to buy neckties, hats and shirts.

Maybe a haberdasher isn't as rugged and independent as the old-time farmer used to be but if Truman and socialism have their way, neither will be the government's farm tenants.

JFK Bills To Come Back

Legislation Sidetracked By Legislators Will Be Offered Again Regardless Of Election Outcome

IMPORTANT 88TH — Gain or lose in the election which is only a little more than three weeks away the Administration will throw back into the 88th Congress all the proposed legislation sidetracked by the legislators at this session, and ask extension of some laws where it got only half loafs in the dying 87th Congress, which will come back only if there is an emergency between now and January. Legislative proposals at the January session will include civil rights, Medical Care Under Social Security, a Department of Urban Affairs, extension of minimum wage coverage, aid to cities on mass transportation. All are issues which have an especial appeal to urban dwellers and it is city folks that Democrats must hold if President Kennedy is to win reelection in 1964.

TAX CUT? — You can get a bet from some old tax writing hands in Congress if you think a tax cut is a sure thing at the session beginning in January. Reason: Although a surplus was forecast in the Budget there will be a deficit this year, (ending June 30, 1963) of maybe as high as $8,000,000,000. In the next fiscal year, there may be a deficit of $11,000,000,000 even without a tax cut, which would be close to a record. A tax cut could put the Government in the fiscal year beginning next July 1 into an unprecedented peacetime red link operation. Thus there is no absolute certainty that Administration will recommend a tax cut and less certainty that Congress would vote if it asked.

KENNEDY CAMPAIGNING — Democratic high command was not disturbed by the fact that President Kennedy drew spotty and less enthusiastic audiences than he did in 1960 when he made his first political foray last weekend. There is still the present and three more such weekly trips planned by the President before election and Democratic politicals expect enthusiasm to build up as the election nears. Political passions, they point out, are always lost at the outset of a campaign.

RIBICOFF SEEMS AHEAD — Abraham A. Ribicoff, who left a Cabinet post in the Kennedy Administration to try for a Senate seat from Connecticut, finds himself in an apparently close race but seems to hold a slight lead over his Republican opponent, Representative Horace Seely-Brown. Some Democrats, however, feel that if Ribicoff wins he may not pull as heavy vote as John N. Dempsey, the Democratic Governor who is a candidate for re-election. "Too many resignations" is one issue against Ribicoff. He resigned as Governor to become Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare and resigned the new post to run for the Senate.

CUBAN MISSILE CAPABILITY —If reports are true that Soviets have medium missiles in Cuba with a range of at least 1,400 miles, New York, Washington and Philadelphia would be in easy range and Pittsburgh close to it. Reports are that the Moscow-provided range are being installed in launching pads under construction in the area of Varadero Beach, a seaside resort in the province of Matanzas in West Central Cuba. Varadero Beach is on a peninsula opposite Florida.

MILITARY AND HOLLYWOOD —Pentagon is taking a new look at its traditional policy of helping Hollywood make service pictures by supplying troops, ships and guns. Some producers have made unreasonable demands as in the case of the producer of "The Longest Day," who insisted on having an entire battalion of 700 men plus several hundred supporting soldiers at his disposal. In another case, in the making of "No Man Is An Island," a sailor was killed in setting off explosions. Pentagon has insisted that it has only given assistance to movie makers when cost of the taxpayers is nil, but this is disputed.

BROADER EMPLOYEE BENEFITS — New Federal employee pay bill will have a major impact on Civil Service life insurance and retirement systems. Many employees will get broader life insurance coverage and their future annuities will be increased from side effects of the billion-dollar pay legislation.

LOOPHOLES IN TAX BILL — Some tax lawyers say that many loopholes will be found in the new tax bill signed by President Kennedy this week. One appeared even before the bill was signed. A complicated provision would have meant a $10,000,000 saving for building and loan associations and cooperative banks in the year of 1963. Remedial legislation to plug it was drawn. Tax experts say it is almost impossible to draw a tax bill without bloopers.

CALIFORNIA DEMOCRATIC HOPES — Democrats still believe they will gain nine Congressional seats in California as a result of that State's gain in representation and redistricting. Big western State will have 38 members in next House of Representatives. Present lineup is 16 Democrats and 14 Republican but in the next Congress Democrats are confident it will be at least 25 to 13 in their favor. Republican claim is that, win or lose, Republican Gubernatorial candidate, Richard M. Nixon, will run so well that he will save several closely contested seats for G.O.P.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

His Eye Squints

Longer Condition Prevails, Lazier Weaker Member Becomes

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: My nine-month - old son has developed a squint in his right eye. It turns in toward the nose. A number of people have told me not to do anything about it. They say that most children grow out of it. Shall I give nature a chance or go to an eye doctor? — Mrs. T.

Comment: It is always good to give nature a chance. But remember that nature often gets in its best work after the doctor has done his part of the job. At times, as in the case of squint, nature is just hoping that the doctor will get his chance — otherwise nature will surely fail.

For the longer you let this condition go along, the eye that squints will be getting lazier and weaker. You know what happens — or are you too young? — when, in a team of horses, one pulls one way and the other wants to go off in another direction. It won't be long before there is disruption or an actual accident. In untreated eye - squint, sight suffers permanent damage.

Therefore, nature or no nature, tell your friends that you are bringing your youngster in for an eye examination and treatment. If the squint isn't too bad, perhaps special spectacles will do the job. If not, then the doctor may prescribe special eye exercise which will strengthen the eye muscles and help bring back full two - eyed vision. In some stubborn cases the only cure is operation.

Remember that no two squint cases are the same. Therefore, don't be influenced by what treatment another child on the block may be getting.

Hardening of Leg Arteries

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am a man in my 50's and have been having increasing trouble in walking. When I take it easy, everything seems all right. But, when I walk fast, I get pain and cramps in the calves of my legs. They feel as heavy as lead and then I have to stop and rest for a few minutes. Then the pain goes away and I can go on again — more slowly, of course. Is there anything to do to stop hardening of the leg arteries?— Mr. Y.

Comment: In a general way, here is what you should do for "intermittent claudication." Have a complete checkup by an internist or family physician first. It's important to know whether or not you have diabetes, high blood pressure — and learn the state of your general blood circulation. How is your blood cholesterol?

Then, it would be a good idea for you to see a doctor who specializes in "peripheral vascular disease" (diseases of the arteries and veins in the extremities). He will take whatever x-rays are necessary to learn just how much atherosclerosis there is in the arteries. Injections of special opaque material will help outline most of the circulation in the legs.

The doctor may decide that exercises alone will help. Or, you may also need drugs which sometimes help to dilate the arteries and improve circulation. If your cholesterol is high he will put you on a special diet. If you smoke, better quit entirely — and at once. If your condition doesn't improve, even though you have been a cooperative patient, then there is always surgery to consider. This often has much to offer in replacing diseased arteries by artificial tubes.

Space Research

Defense Official Thinks United States May Spend Too Much

It is almost man-bites dog news when an important Pentagon official says publicly that the military is spending too much money. But this is almost what Assistant Secretary of Defense John H. Rubel has done. Though the military space budget is being increased, he says, "we probably err on the side of allowing too generous a margin."

This is a blow to the Air Force and its supporters in Congress who want to step up appropriations for military space research and are clamoring that we will be outdone by the Soviets. It is a frequent prediction on Capitol Hill that Comrade Khrushchev will put a "space platform" into orbit any day now, and that this platform will be armed with ICBMs which will be able to blast the free world with impunity.

Since the Administration is satisfied with the military space program and has battled attempts to put it on a multi-billion dollar crash program, Mr. Rubel's comments might be taken as the usual White House - dictated counter - attack. It might also be rejected as an attempt to answer charges that the work being done by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is limited to strictly peaceful uses, whereas the Soviets think primarily in military terms.

In this case, I believe that the suspicion is unjustified.

This is not based on any expertise of my own but on the considered judgment of a space official with whom I talked at considerable length. His first point was that any arbitrary separation between "peaceful" and "military" in space research is meaningless. The NASA Venus probe, which is far and away beyond the known capabilities (or claims) of the Soviet Union, is presumably in the scientific research category. But what we learn from it will be as applicable to military use as the 1.5 million pound thrust boosters being developed by NASA. To deny this would be to say, in effect, that an atom - powered plane if developed for civilian use would have no military significance.

A far more important point, and one going to the heart of the controversy over any armed space platform, is the question of efficiency. "Why," the space official asked, "spend billions to put our own platform into space for military purposes when ground-based missiles can already do the job better, more accurately, and at a fraction of the cost." For any first or second strike, our fleet of Polaris - armed atomic submarines is far more potent than any conceivable space platform. Why divert funds from necessary research and development for a project that cannot do the job as well as our rapidly improving ICBM's and IRBMs?

This does not mean that military space research should be, or has been, written off by the Administration or the Pentagon. NASA works openly, so that we are always kept informed of its projects. The military space program is, however, highly classified. Much of the work in this field has been properly described by Assistant Secretary Rubel as the construction of "technological building blocks" — insurance that the United States will be able to take advantage of any sudden breakthrough in military space technology. Money is being spent — and this is not said critically — on projects which will probably have no value but must be carried through "just in case."

The idea that the Soviet Union will set up manned military outposts on the moon from which it can bombard the United States is not taken seriously by space scientists. The reason they give is one which few Americans have considered. It is already within the power of the United States to create a radiation belt outside the earth's atmosphere, but surrounding it, which will be so lethal that no manned craft will be able to pass through without destroying its occupants. In what the scientists like to call "the present state of the art," no nation is yet capable of building a space craft with sufficient shielding to cut off the radioactivity. Eventually, this problem may be solved, but as of now the U. S. can seal off outer space to any enemy.

Those who do not accept the Administration's explanation are conditioned in their thinking by past examples of lack of candor on the part of the President and his advisers — such as Mr. Kennedy's unjustified refusal to push the B-70 program. In the case of the military space budget, all the evidence points to the conclusion that stepped-up expenditures or a crash program would achieve little and further burden the Treasury.

Pay Hikes Slow

Almost Certain To Be Smaller Next Year Than This Year

The slowdown in the rate of cash wage boosts in the United States-a major characteristic of the sluggish American economy in 1962-will continue in 1963.

Wage increases on average are almost sure to be smaller next year than pay hikes this year, and this year the increases are averaging the smallest since 1955.

The "floor" under yearly wage increases is being lowered. The prolonged post-World War II wage spiral is weakening. In factories particularly the wage gallop has become a creep.

Fringe benefits continue to climb. The most frequent changes next year will be in insurance and pension provisions followed by more liberal vacation and holiday clauses. Here too, though, the majority of changes will be in non - manufacturing fields.

Meanwhile, as the U. S. cash wage upsurge flattens, wages in nations which are our chief overseas competitors for the world markets are rising rapidly. The 2½ to 3 per cent rise in wages in manufacturing industries here this past year contrasts with 5 to 6 per cent wage hikes in the Common Market nations.

The clue to 1963's wage pattern lies in the provisions for deferred pay increases to take effect automatically next year under contracts already signed. As Donald F. Farwell of the Bureau of National Affairs, a Washington research organization in the labor market field, remarked to me, "The size of deferred increases, we have found, is about as good an indicator as you can get of what negotiated increases are likely to average in the same year."

This weekend the BNA will release an analysis of 2,300 contracts now in force providing for deferred wage increases in 1963. These will be the highlights of the report.

ITEM: Wage hikes to take effect automatically next year will average slightly over 7½ cents an hour compared with an average in 1962 of 8 cents an hour.

To illustrate how powerful an influence this "floor" is, in 1961 the average deferred pay increase was 8.2 cents, the average negotiated increase was 7.8 cents. This year the average deferred increase through the third quarter is 8 cents, the average negotiated increase through the third quarter has been 7.5 cents.

Says Farwell, "Assuming the same relationship prevails in 1963, there will be a further drop in the size of negotiated wage increases, perhaps to about 7 cents."

ITEM: The overall average hides significant variations. For instance, if deferred increases in construction are excluded, the average pay hike in 1963 drops to 6.8 cents. There are more numerous and higher deferred increases in construction than in any other industry. When the average is broken down into manufacturing and non - manufacturing, the sluggishness in manufacturing becomes even more marked. The average deferred pay hike in factories in 1963 will be 6½ cents against 10 cents in non - manufacturing.

ITEM: The trend toward long-term contracts carrying deferred increases persists. The deferred hikes appeared in 51 per cent of last year's contracts compared with only 5 per cent in 1954. In the first half of this year, 56 per cent of the non - manufacturing and 47 per cent of the manufacturing contracts provided for deferred hikes.

ITEM: A "zero" round - no cash increases at all - is provided for in 2 per cent of the settlements scheduled for 1963. In these instances changes will be limited to fringe benefits.

Why the slowdown? An obvious reason is our stickily high level of unemployment; there is a distinct correlation between a high rate of joblessness and a slowdown in wage increases. Another reason is that corporations which have been unable to raise prices to maintain their profits in this competitive era have been successfully holding out against heavy wage demands.

Does it mean the wage upswing is over? Obviously not. These increases still work out to 2½ 2-3 per cent a year and expensive fringe benefits come on top of them. But there is no doubt that wages as well as prices in the U. S. have entered a new era of relative stability.

Kennedy Ignores People

President Kennedy either is completely insensitive to the mood of the people or is stubbornly trying to play along the line toward socialism in spite of that mood.

The president forgets that he was elected by the tiniest of margins and, therefore, lacks a mandate to extend socialism to America. Furthermore, people who voted for Kennedy because of his so-called "liberal" views had no idea that he not only would pull for complete socialization but would extend more friendship to communist nations and people than to the democracies and their citizens.

BROADER EMPLOYEE BENEFITS — New Federal employee pay bill will have a major impact on Civil Service life insurance and retirement systems. Many employees will get broader life insurance coverage and their future annuities will be increased from side effects of the billion-dollar pay legislation.

LOOPHOLES IN TAX BILL — Some tax lawyers say that many loopholes will be found in the new tax bill signed by President Kennedy this week. One appeared even before the bill was signed. A complicated provision would have meant a $10,000,000 saving for building and loan associations and cooperative banks in the year of 1963. Remedial legislation to plug it was drawn. Tax experts say it is almost impossible to draw a tax bill without bloopers.

CALIFORNIA DEMOCRATIC HOPES — Democrats still believe they will gain nine Congressional seats in California as a result of that State's gain in representation and redistricting. Big western State will have 38 members in next House of Representatives. Present lineup is 16 Democrats and 14 Republican but in the next Congress Democrats are confident it will be at least 25 to 13 in their favor. Republican claim is that, win or lose, Republican Gubernatorial candidate, Richard M. Nixon, will run so well that he will save several closely contested seats for G.O.P.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

His Eye Squints

Longer Condition Prevails, Lazier Weaker Member Becomes

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: My nine-month - old son has developed a squint in his right eye. It turns in toward the nose. A number of people have told me not to do anything about it. They say that most children grow out of it. Shall I give nature a chance or go to an eye doctor? — Mrs. T.

Comment: It is always good to give nature a chance. But remember that nature often gets in its best work after the doctor has done his part of the job. At times, as in the case of squint, nature is just hoping that the doctor will get his chance — otherwise nature will surely fail.

For the longer you let this condition go along, the eye that squints will be getting lazier and weaker. You know what happens — or are you too young? — when, in a team of horses, one pulls one way and the other wants to go off in another direction. It won't be long before there is disruption or an actual accident. In untreated eye - squint, sight suffers permanent damage.

Therefore, nature or no nature, tell your friends that you are bringing your youngster in for an eye examination and treatment. If the squint isn't too bad, perhaps special spectacles will do the job. If not, then the doctor may prescribe special eye exercise which will strengthen the eye muscles and help bring back full two - eyed vision. In some stubborn cases the only cure is operation.

Remember that no two squint cases are the same. Therefore, don't be influenced by what treatment another child on the block may be getting.

Hardening of Leg Arteries

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am a man in my 50's and have been having increasing trouble in walking. When I take it easy, everything seems all right. But, when I walk fast, I get pain and cramps in the calves of my legs. They feel as heavy as lead and then I have to stop and rest for a few minutes. Then the pain goes away and I can go on again — more slowly, of course. Is there anything to do to stop hardening of the leg arteries?— Mr. Y.

Comment: In a general way, here is what you should do for "intermittent claudication." Have a complete checkup by an internist or family physician first. It's important to know whether or not you have diabetes, high blood pressure — and learn the state of your general blood circulation. How is your blood cholesterol?

Then, it would be a good idea for you to see a doctor who specializes in "peripheral vascular disease" (diseases of the arteries and veins in the extremities). He will take whatever x-rays are necessary to learn just how much atherosclerosis there is in the arteries. Injections of special opaque material will help outline most of the circulation in the legs.

The doctor may decide that exercises alone will help. Or, you may also need drugs which sometimes help to dilate the arteries and improve circulation. If your cholesterol is high he will put you on a special diet. If you smoke, better quit entirely — and at once. If your condition doesn't improve, even though you have been a cooperative patient, then there is always surgery to consider. This often has much to offer in replacing diseased arteries by artificial tubes.

Today is Saturday, Oct. 20, the 293rd day of 1962 with 72 to follow.

The moon is in its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury and Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1918, in their third peace note, the Germans accepted President Wilson's terms to end World War I and issued orders recalling all submarines to their homes bases.

In 1944, American troops landed on the eastern coast of Leyte Island in the Philippines. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who had been forced to leave the islands two and one half years earlier, issued a proclamation to the Filipinos that began: "I have returned..."

In 1953, Corp. Edward Dickenson of Big Stone Gap, Va., one of 23 American prisoners of war who originally refused to be repatriated after the Korean war, changed his mind and asked to be returned to the U.S.

A thought for the day — The American novelist, Willa Cather, said: No one can build his security upon the nobless of another person."

Space Research

Defense Official Thinks United States May Spend Too Much

It is almost man-bites dog news when an important Pentagon official says publicly that the military is spending too much money. But this is almost what Assistant Secretary of Defense John H. Rubel has done. Though the military space budget is being increased, he says, "we probably err on the side of allowing too generous a margin."

This is a blow to the Air Force and its supporters in Congress who want to step up appropriations for military space research and are clamoring that we will be outdone by the Soviets. It is a frequent prediction on Capitol Hill that Comrade Khrushchev will put a "space platform" into orbit any day now, and that this platform will be armed with ICBMs which will be able to blast the free world with impunity.

Since the Administration is satisfied with the military space program and has battled attempts to put it on a multi-billion dollar crash program, Mr. Rubel's comments might be taken as the usual White House - dictated counter - attack. It might also be rejected as an attempt to answer charges that the work being done by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is limited to strictly peaceful uses, whereas the Soviets think primarily in military terms.

In this case, I believe that the suspicion is unjustified.

This is not based on any expertise of my own but on the considered judgment of a space official with whom I talked at considerable length. His first point was that any arbitrary separation between "peaceful" and "military" in space research is meaningless. The NASA Venus probe, which is far and away beyond the known capabilities (or claims) of the Soviet Union, is presumably in the scientific research category. But what we learn from it will be as applicable to military use as the 1.5 million pound thrust boosters being developed by NASA. To deny this would be to say, in effect, that an atom - powered plane if developed for civilian use would have no military significance.

A far more important point, and one going to the heart of the controversy over any armed space platform, is the question of efficiency. "Why," the space official asked, "spend billions to put our own platform into space for military purposes when ground-based missiles can already do the job better, more accurately, and at a fraction of the cost." For any first or second strike, our fleet of Polaris - armed atomic submarines is far more potent than any conceivable space platform. Why divert funds from necessary research and development for a project that cannot do the job as well as our rapidly improving ICBM's and IRBMs?

This does not mean that military space research should be, or has been, written off by the Administration or the Pentagon. NASA works openly, so that we are always kept informed of its projects. The military space program is, however, highly classified. Much of the work in this field has been properly described by Assistant Secretary Rubel as the construction of "technological building blocks" — insurance that the United States will be able to take advantage of any sudden breakthrough in military space technology. Money is being spent — and this is not said critically — on projects which will probably have no value but must be carried through "just in case."

The idea that the Soviet Union will set up manned military outposts on the moon from which it can bombard the United States is not taken seriously by space scientists. The reason they give is one which few Americans have considered. It is already within the power of the United States to create a radiation belt outside the earth's atmosphere, but surrounding it, which will be so lethal that no manned craft will be able to pass through without destroying its occupants. In what the scientists like to call "the present state of the art," no nation is yet capable of building a space craft with sufficient shielding to cut off the radioactivity. Eventually, this problem may be solved, but as of now the U. S. can seal off outer space to any enemy.

Those who do not accept the Administration's explanation are conditioned in their thinking by past examples of lack of candor on the part of the President and his advisers — such as Mr. Kennedy's unjustified refusal to push the B-70 program. In the case of the military space budget, all the evidence points to the conclusion that stepped-up expenditures or a crash program would achieve little and further burden the Treasury.

SYLVIA PORTER

Pay Hikes Slow

Almost Certain To Be Smaller Next Year Than This Year

The slowdown in the rate of cash wage boosts in the United States-a major characteristic of the sluggish American economy in 1962-will continue in 1963.

Wage increases on average are almost sure to be smaller next year than pay hikes this year, and this year the increases are averaging the smallest since 1955.

The "floor" under yearly wage increases is being lowered. The prolonged post-World War II wage spiral is weakening. In factories particularly the wage gallop has become a creep.

Fringe benefits continue to climb. The most frequent changes next year will be in insurance and pension provisions followed by more liberal vacation and holiday clauses. Here too, though, the majority of changes will be in non - manufacturing fields.

Meanwhile, as the U. S. cash wage upsurge flattens, wages in nations which are our chief overseas competitors for the world markets are rising rapidly. The 2½ to 3 per cent rise in wages in manufacturing industries here this past year contrasts with 5 to 6 per cent wage hikes in the Common Market nations.

The clue to 1963's wage pattern lies in the provisions for deferred pay increases to take effect automatically next year under contracts already signed. As Donald F. Farwell of the Bureau of National Affairs, a Washington research organization in the labor market field, remarked to me, "The size of deferred increases, we have found, is about as good an indicator as you can get of what negotiated increases are likely to average in the same year."

This weekend the BNA will release an analysis of 2,300 contracts now in force providing for deferred wage increases in 1963. These will be the highlights of the report.

ITEM: Wage hikes to take effect automatically next year will average slightly over 7½ cents an hour compared with an average in 1962 of 8 cents an hour.

To illustrate how powerful an influence this "floor" is, in 1961 the average deferred pay increase was 8.2 cents, the average negotiated increase was 7.8 cents. This year the average deferred increase through the third quarter is 8 cents, the average negotiated increase through the third quarter has been 7.5 cents.

Says Farwell, "Assuming the same relationship prevails in 1963, there will be a further drop in the size of negotiated wage increases, perhaps to about 7 cents."

ITEM: The overall average hides significant variations. For instance, if deferred increases in construction are excluded, the average pay hike in 1963 drops to 6.8 cents. There are more numerous and higher deferred increases in construction than in any other industry. When the average is broken down into manufacturing and non - manufacturing, the sluggishness in manufacturing becomes even more marked. The average deferred pay hike in factories in 1963 will be 6½ cents against 10 cents in non - manufacturing.

ITEM: The trend toward long-term contracts carrying deferred increases persists. The deferred hikes appeared in 51 per cent of last year's contracts compared with only 5 per cent in 1954. In the first half of this year, 56 per cent of the non - manufacturing and 47 per cent of the manufacturing contracts provided for deferred hikes.

ITEM: A "zero" round - no cash increases at all - is provided for in 2 per cent of the settlements scheduled for 1963. In these instances changes will be limited to fringe benefits.

Why the slowdown? An obvious reason is our stickily high level of unemployment; there is a distinct correlation between a high rate of joblessness and a slowdown in wage increases. Another reason is that corporations which have been unable to raise prices to maintain their profits in this competitive era have been successfully holding out against heavy wage demands.

Does it mean the wage upswing is over? Obviously not. These increases still work out to 2½ 2-3 per cent a year and expensive fringe benefits come on top of them. But there is no doubt that wages as well as prices in the U. S. have entered a new era of relative stability.

'TOOL OF KREMLIN'

Soviet Killer-Spy Gets 8-Year Term

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP)—The West German Supreme Court sentenced a Soviet killer-spy Friday to eight years in prison and explained he was getting off lightly because he was only a tool of the Kremlin.

Bogdan N. Stashinsky, who defected to the West out of love for a German girl, confessed slaying two Ukrainian nationalist leaders.

Stashinsky's defense was that he was blackmailed into joining the Soviet secret police in 1950 and carried out the assassination missions on orders from the highest possible place—meaning the Soviet government or Communist party Central Committee.

Stefan Bandera was shot on the steps of his Munich apartment building in 1959, and writer Lev Rebet was slain in 1957.

Bandera's widow, who lives in Toronto, Canada, had appealed for leniency for Stashinsky and said she felt the Soviet secret service was the real killer of her husband.

Charles J. Kersten of Milwaukee, Wis., a former U.S. congressman who represented Mrs. Bandera at the trial, said he and the Ukrainian nationalist leader's widow plan to accuse Soviet Premier Khrushchev of murder before the United Nations Commission on Human Rights.

Kersten also said he was exploring possibilities of filing a damage suit on behalf of Mrs. Bandera against the Soviet government in the International Court at The Hague.

Smaller Garbage Cans Are Asked To Be In Use

West Monroe Sanitation Superintendent W .R. Townson Friday recommended use by the city's patrons of a smaller type of backyard trash receptacle. He extended simultaneous thanks for the cooperation of those persons already having made such a switch.

Townson said replacement of the normally - used 55-gal. drums, "often without lids," would expedite the work of the city's garbage collectors.

Complaints have been received by the department citing the littering of debris about the yards of several patrons. The superintendent indicated a smaller barrel would eliminate such occurrences.

"About a 25-gal. receptacle with a lid, of the type we're recommending, wouldn't hold so much and would be lighter and easier to handle," explained Townson. "It would virtually eliminate littering."

Many people already have made a change, he said, adding the hope "everyone else will do the same when the barrels they're using wear out."

Townson pointed out West Monroe would begin making two collectin runs a week "just as soon as we get the equipment necessary to do it." He said that would be soon.

Panama Orders Ships To Halt All Cuba Trade

PANAMA (AP) — All ships flying Panama's flag were under government orders Friday not to engage in any kind of trade with Cuba.

President Roberto F. Chiari issued the all-inclusive decree Thursday night, boosting U.S. efforts to tighten an economic blockade on Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

The U.S. Maritime Administration said in Washington that there are 486 ships of 1,000 gross tons or more flying the Panamanian flag. Most of them are foreign owned. Foreign owners register their craft in Panama to benefit from lower taxes, lower wage rates and other advantages.

U.S. Charges Network Action Irresponsible

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department charged Friday that the National Broadcasting Co. was guilty of "risky, irresponsible, undesirable" action contrary to the best interests of the United States by becoming involved in tunnel operations under the Berlin wall.

Press Officer Lincoln White said NC was aware of the department's view before it went ahead with participation in and filming of such a project.

He added that the question of whether the film made at the time should be shown on its television network was up to the broadcasting company itself to decide. He noted that the West Berlin senate and the West Berlin government had protested against NBC's proposed showing of the film Octc. 31.

"Our view is clear," White added. He said the Columbia Broadcasting System "promptly and laudably" withdrew from a tunnel project when informed that the State Department considered involvement of Americans in such operations was "both dangerous and irresponsible."

AFTER SLAYING WIFE

Czech Diplomat Dies Of Wound

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (UPI)—A Czechoslovak diplomat died Friday of a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head, leaving unanswered the question of why he killed his wife in the Czech mission to the United Nations in New York.

With the death of Karel Zizka, 40, an administrative attache to the Communist Czech U.N. delegation, U.S. officials closed the books on the case which started with a wild chase in New York City and led to this eastern Pennsylvania city 75 miles away.

Zizka, free from prosecution in the United States because of his diplomatic immunity, died without regaining consciousness at St. Luke's Hospital where surgeons performed a 2½-hour emergency brain operation Thursday to try to save him.

He shot himself as he sat in the wreckage of the official Czech limousine at the bottom of a 40-foot embankment at the end of a three-state police chase that reached speeds of 110 miles an hour. State troopers wounded him in the shoulder when he showed a German-made pistol, but doctors said this was not a factor in his death.

It was not until after the diplomat critically wounded himself that state troopers learned that they had been chasing anything but a speeding motorist.

JFK Stumps Midwest In Campaigning

ON TOUR WITH PRESIDENT KENNEDY (AP) — President Kennedy barnstormed into the Midwest Friday on another leg of his campaign designed to elect more Democrats to Congress.

Again, he hit at Republican opposition to his farm and other legislative programs.

Explaining the reasons for his intensive campaigning, Kennedy told an estimated 60,000 persons in Cleveland Public Square he hoped "that all of you understand that it is most appropriate and important that a president of the United States who is not a candidate take part in this campaign for the House, for the Senate," and for other Democratic candidates.

He was campaigning, he said, because he was "most concerned about the passage of those laws which I believe to be essential for the progress of the United States."

Putting emphasis on specific programs such as his proposal for medical aid to the elderly under Social Security, Kennedy said that only with Democrats in Congress can this nation move ahead.

Democratic leaders turned out enthusiastic crowds to line the 12-mile route of Kennedy's motorcade from Cleveland Hopkins Airport to Public Square for his noon speech.

Not all the signs raised by the crowd were of the "Welcome Jack" variety, however. There were a few of a critical nature, such as the one's that read: "Jack, who's minding the store?" and "Mississippi yes, Cuba no."

Only 3½ hours after a four-engine Air Force jet plane set him down at Cleveland, the President landed at Springfield, Ill., for his second stop.

While his praises mostly were for Democrats in general, he made a point at Springfield to express support for Sidney Yates, who is running for Senate against Everett M. Dirksen, GOP minority leader in the Senate.

Dirksen has gone along with some of the President's programs, and there had been speculation Kennedy might not go all out for Yates.

School To Hold Carnival Today

St. Paschal's school will sponsor a carnival starting at 5:30 today, with features for the entire family.

Officials said that the carnival will offer hot dogs, hamburgers, sweet shop, fancy work booth, white elephant sale, cake walk, candied apples and popcorn balls, dart game, fishing pond, kiddy rides for youngsters and a record room for teenagers.

"LET ME TALK UNTIL I RUN OUT OF BREATH... THEN YOU TALK AND I'LL LISTEN!"

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Broadway hears that the biggest winner on the World Series was a member of the Rat Pack. He took the boodle he made on Sonny Liston and parlayed it on the Yanks to beat the Giants . . . The Democrats now realize more than ever the tremendous command President Kennedy exerts over John Q. Public. Despite the Cuba setback and other problems of State, the terrific acclaim he's been drawing on recent political hops are enough to discourage the Republicans in a big way . . . Hollywood model Barbara Ann, now in New York, has been linked with everyone from Eddie Fisher to Sascha Distel, but she's been dashing off notes to a Los Angeles real estate man, Mike Silverman — and he's been linked with Jayne Mansfield.

They're practicing a little "Russian History" at Barbra Streisand's booking agency, the William Morris Office, claiming in her biography that she first took a crack at show business "barely a year" ago. To Broadway insiders this is a hoot, since she began at the Bon Soir more than two years ago. (Her first major column break occurred here on Sept. 15, 1960.) Incidentally, she returns to the Bon Soir as a headliner next Tuesday, when William Morris will probably give out the news that Barbra invented the telephone.

Frank Loesser sent leather-bound copies of the complete score of "How to Succeed" to every member of the cast, as a memento of the show's first anniversary. . . Peter Lawford is rumored to be considering producing a major motion picture based on the life of Harry Truman. Warning to Petah: It better not be a political biography — that spells death at the box office. Recall if you will "Wilson" and "Sunrise at Campobello" . . . The big funny in the trade are the ads Darryl Zanuck took in the papers giving special mention to people who helped put over "The Longest Day." One of the citations was awarded to Richard Burton, who, according to Zanuck, "flew back and forth between Rome and Paris to work over the weekends, without a complaint." What Mr. Zanuck omitted was Burton's big hazard at that time; he never knew which adoring — and irate — lady would meet him when he arrived, his wife or Elizabeth Taylor.

There's more than meets the eye between Michele Morgan, the star of "Crime Does Not Pay," and her director, Gerard Oury. They're currently in Manhattan on a personal appearance tour.

For the "good riddance" department: Brendan Behan's "The Hostage," which was booked for Philadelphia and then back to New York next month, suddenly ran out of four and five letter expletives and folded in Cleveland . . .Hugh O'Brian is in town for about 24 hours. He's found a Broadway play he wants to do — and they want him to do it — but his other commitments won't allow him the time.

Debbie Reynolds is supposed to be going all out for her nightclub act debut in Las Vegas at Christmas time. The scuttlebutt is that she's spent almost $75,000 preparing for the big event, making sure she has nothing but the best in special material, her wardrobe, and choreography. The nice part: Debbie is a millionaire, so she can afford it, and her husband, Harry Karl, is a multi - one . . . Sally Eilers of longago screen stardom and her mate, Holly Morse, have been estranged for years but they're finally going ahead with the divorce plans.

Charlie Mingus, the great jazz bassist who opens at Birdland intends this to be his last appearance as an instrumentalist. Charlie plans to devote all his time to composing and book-writing from here on in. Encouraging his decision is the $15,000 check he received from McGraw-Hill for the publishing rights to a novel he's currently polishing. The manuscript was almost 1,400 pages long until the McGraw-Hill editors read it, loved it, and ordered Charlie to cut it to something like 600 pages . . . Joe Morello, the famed drummer with Dave Brubeck, is losing his eyesight at such a rapid rate he's reached the point where he works almost entirely by touch, because he can barely see the drums in front of him.

The Downstairs at the Upstairs will lose one of its brightest assets when "Harold" is fully under way. Engaged for the show are Susie Bond, who has been appearing in "7 Comes 11" and the club's maitre d'hotel, Sidney Armus, whose last Broadway play was "The Cold Wind and the Warm," and who made such a hit as the comedy lead of "Wish You Were Here."

One of the most amazing scenes ever shown to audiences will be the desert mirage — in color — filmed for "Lawrence of Arabia" without any tricks at all. An honest to goodness mirage suddenly appears before your eyes in the middle of a huge desert. You can't believe it until you see it . . . Buddy Rich is much better after his hospitalization and the Big Scare . . . Eve Arden is investing her impressive residuals from her TV show, "Our Miss Brooks," in cattle — or as she puts it, "Moo - juice on the hoof."

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

The bloom of the Confederacy's brightest summer wore off with the coming of autumn in 1862.

The invasion of Maryland by Gen. Robert E. Lee's Army of Northern Virginia had been turned back in mid-September at Antietam Creek (Sharpsburg).

Gen. Braxton Bragg's expedition into Kentucky also had splintered at the drawn battle of Perryville, Ky., early in October.

By the end of October Lee was recuperating his army in the Shenandoah Valley around Winchester, Va. His troops still were eating the supplies he had captured in Maryland but thousands of his men had worn out their shoes on Maryland's hard roads. No replacements were in sight.

The footwear shortage was dramatized in Richmond. Barefooted Confederates marched through an early snowfall in the capital. The sight moved Richmond residents to chip in and send 10,000 pairs of shoes to Lee's army. A committee of indignant citizens forced Confederate quartermasters to impress blankets and winter clothing from profiteers' warehouses bulging with supplies being held for higher prices.

These impromptu efforts helped but failed to solve Lee's supply troubles. Word in Richmond was that the army would have to go on half rations by the first of the year, although Virginia's 1862 wheat crop had been bountiful.

— The Seven Days' battles on the Peninsula when the Union army was turned back in sight of the Richmond church spires.

— Second Manassas (Bull Run) when Maj. Gen. John Pope's forces was routed by Lee and Stonewall Jackson and Washington threatened.

— The battle of Antietam (Sharpsburg) considered only a setback, not a defeat. The Union army had been outmaneuvered and failed to deliver the punch necessary for a resounding victory.

But after all the victories were added up the result was disappointing. The Union armies were still intact and even stronger than when the summer campaigns had started. No Union territory was occupied.

The New York Express published a news story that Britain, with French support, would demand an armistice in the war, and if the North refused, recognize the Confederacy.

The other development was a speech made Oct. 7 at Newcastle, England, by William Gladstone, chancellor of the exchequer and later prime minister of Britain. Among other things, he said:

"Jefferson Davis and other leaders of the South have made an army: they are making, it appears, a navy: and they have made what is more than either, they have made a nation."

Coming from a member of a government known to be pro-Confederate, the speech was interpreted to be a forerunner of recognition.

To those two buoys the Confederates moored high hopes of victory.

After the battle of Antietam, the Army of the Potomac remained in Maryland more than a month, its commander, Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan, seemingly impervious against suggestions to pursue the Rebels.

Finally on Oct. 26 McClellan, nearly three weeks after a direct order from President Lincoln to "cross the Potomac and give battle to the enemy or drive him South. . . while the roads are good," moved leisurely into Virginia and posted his army around Harper's Ferry.

McClellan's march not only was slow, it also was cautious to a point which Lincoln considered timid. One reason for McClellan's caution may have been the realization that his cavalry was inadequate, overworked and intimidated by another of Gen. J. E. B. Stuart's spectacular raids.

Stuart started north on Oct. 9 with 1,800 picked men and four guns under the command of his young artilerist, John Pelham. His objective was to round up horses for his cavalry and artillery.

As soon as the gray troopers crossed into Pennsylvania, the center group fanned out and began taking horses.

Col. W. W. Blackford, one of Stuart's aides, described how it was done:

"Riding up to the barn a rap on the entrance with a sabre hilt would bring the surprised owner to the door. Sometimes our presence would be accounted for by claiming to be U. S. soldiers pressing horses. . . . The horses were all hitched up to the (threshing) machines; so we brought off harness and all, which was no doubt very convenient to our batteries, as no collars we had would have fitted those huge, bull-necked animals. (Many of the horses owned by the Pennsylvania Dutch farmers were Conestogas, strictly draft animals.)

". . . After getting the horses the pantry was inspected; where there was such an abundance the men became choice and would only take freshly baked bread. .

The returning party would present a vista of roasted turkeys, hams and rounds of beef . . . brown rolls . . . crocks of cream and rolls of butter . . ."

The Confederates reached Chambersburg, Pa., on the evening of Oct 10.

A Northern historian, Samuel H. Schmucker, writing in 1865 when memories of the raid still were fresh. described what happened after the town agreed to surrender on condition persons and property were to be respected:

"Each soldier led one or two horses, which he had already stolen. They distributed themselves up and down the streets and lanes, breaking open the stables, and taking from them all the good horses they could find. . . They entered several stores, and plundered them of clothing. . . In such enterprising activity they spent the night.

"On the following morning at nine o'clock they fired the machine shops and warehouses of the Valley railroad. . . They had entered a bank, but the funds previously had been removed, so that they were disappointed in regard to the acquisition of money."

From Chambersburg Stuart started east towards Gettysburg to mislead pursuit and then turned south.

All that day, all night and until 4 p.m. the next day, his cavalry, leading 1,200 fresh horses, rode south and crossed the Potomac to Leesburg, Va., on Oct. 12, a march of 90 miles with only one halt.

Only in the last 12 miles in Maryland did Federal forces begin to catch up but their efforts were feeble and late.

Stuart had ridden around McClellan's army again as he had done a few months before on the Peninsula.

Henry Hotze, a Swiss, was the chief Confederate propagandist in England during the Civil War. He founded a newspaper called the Index and press agented a great deal of Confederate material into the Continental newspapers.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

POOR BUT FERTILE

The story of Mauritius Island is a lesson in population growth and poor economic conditions. Prosperity brought better health and nutrition, with higher birth rates and fewer deaths. Since these people are dependent upon overseas trade for their survival, unless their resources are built up, they may find it necessary to clip the wings of their over-ambitious storks.

The island is ideal for a study of this type. It is isolated deep in the Indian ocean, east of Africa and Madagascar. Man has inhabited Mauritius for only 350 years; early settlers took it away from the now extinct dodo and other animals.

The Mauritians kept excellent records, under the English, so their statistics are valuable. What is happening to them may offer some clews on what other countries with marginal resources can expect from better education, nutrition, sanitation, and health.

According to Population Bulletin, the original surge in population was caused by the large influx of African slaves, laborers from India, and settlers from Europe. Epidemics and violent storms took a heavy toll in human lives in the early years, which leveled off the excess population from births. Ships brought plague-carrying rats and sanitary conditions were not the best. There were epidemics of smallpox, cholera, dysentery, polio, and influenza. Malaria became a problem.

Health and sanitation improved during periods of prosperity and declined when economic conditions deteriorated. DDT took care of malaria. Fewer people died and more babies were born. The old balance between births and deaths was upset and the population soared. Between 1871 and 1946 it inched up to 428,000. From 1946 to 1961 it reached 656,000 — an increase of more than 50 per cent in 15 years. If this continues there will be 2 million Mauritians by 2000 A. D.

In Mauritius, 44 per cent of the inhabitants are under age 15 and 3 per cent are over 65. In other words, 53 per cent of the population is supporting the island.

Improved educational facilities failed to provide technical training. There is a prejudice against doing agricultural work on the sugar and tea plantations, and government jobs are preferred. But since white collar jobs are scarce, unemployment is high and slums are forming. It is not difficult to speculate on what will happen in the future.

NASAL CONGESTION

E. C. writes: Could allergy cause the nose of a man of 25 to keep stopping up?

REPLY

Yes, this is a common cause. The man may be allergic to dusts, pollen, animal dander, molds, cosmetics, or foods. Nasal changes occur that mimic the ordinary nose cold — with congestion, obstruction, and sneezing. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on vasomotor rhinitis.

WHY SUFFER?

M. B. writes: Is operation recommended for hammer toes on both feet? I can hardly stand the pain or wear shoes because of corns on top of the toe that sticks up.

REPLY

Yes. Various corrective procedures are available.

J. Floyd Kent, associate agent with the L.S.U. agriculture extension service and Mrs. Donna M. Moore, associate agent with the U.S. Department of Agriculture Extension Service, spoke. New members were enrolled, club projects were selected, and officers set the next meeting date for Nov. 13.

Agents Beef Up Force In Chlorine Job

Twenty-four agents of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission arrived here. They will augment a force of 50 state policemen in helping clear out the population in case one of four chlorine gas tanks at the bottom of the Mississippi river springs a leak.

R. P. Easterly, chief of the enforcement division of the commission, said that the agents "hve been assigned to assist with communications in the area."

Meanwhile, at the barge site itself, divers are taking extra precautions as they use cutting torches to remove portions of a platform situated over the tanks on the barge.

Double asbestos blankets are being placed around the area being cut.

Two small corners of the piping have been removed. Detailed plans for removing the operating deck are being drawn from information furnished by the divers.

One of the derrick barges to be used in hauling the tanks to the surface has been anchored over the chlorine site.

Event Schedule Of Homecoming At Tech Noted

A feature of the homecoming activities will be the dedication of W. L. Mitchell dormitory for men, recently built across the street from Memorial Gymnasium. A portrait of the late W. L. Mitchell, for many years dean of men and a professor of mechanical engineering at Tech, will be unveiled by his grandson, William Leroy Mitchell III, now a student at the college here. The Mitchell portrait was painted by H. C. Moffett, West Monroe artist.

S. X. Lewis, dean of students at Tech, will dedicate the building.

The annual homecoming parade will form on the campus at noon and proceed along Ruston streets.

The football game with SLC will begin at 2 p.m., after which the annual business meeting of the alumni association will begin at 4:30 p.m. in Memorial Gymnasium. POOR BUT FERTILE

The story of Mauritius Island is a lesson in population growth and poor economic conditions. Prosperity brought better health and nutrition, with higher birth rates and fewer deaths. Since these people are dependent upon overseas trade for their survival, unless their resources are built up, they may find it necessary to clip the wings of their overambitious storks.

The island is ideal for a study of this type. It is isolated deep in the Indian ocean, east of Africa and Madagascar. Man has inhabited Mauritius for only 350 years; early settlers took it away from the now extinct dodo and other animals.

The Mauritians kept excellent records, under the English, so their statistics are valuable. What is happening to them may offer some clews on what other countries with marginal resources can expect from better education, nutrition, sanitation, and health.

According to Population Bulletin, the original surge in population was caused by the large influx of African slaves, laborers from India, and settlers from Europe. Epidemics and violent storms took a heavy toll in human lives in the early years, which leveled off the excess population from births. Ships brought plague-carrying rats and sanitary conditions were not the best. There were epidemics of smallpox, cholera, dysentery, polio, and influenza. Malaria became a problem.

Health and sanitation improved during periods of prosperity and declined when economic conditions deteriorated. DDT took care of malaria. Fewer people died and more babies were born. The old balance between births and deaths was upset and the population soared. Between 1871 and 1946 it inched up to 428,000. From 1946 to 1961 it reached 656,000 — an increase of more than 50 per cent in 15 years. If this continues there will be 2 million Mauritians by 2000 A. D.

In Mauritius, 44 per cent of the inhabitants are under age 15 and 3 per cent are over 65. In other words, 53 per cent of the population is supporting the island.

Improved educational facilities failed to provide technical training. There is a prejudice against doing agricultural work on the sugar and tea plantations, and government jobs are preferred. But since white collar jobs are scarce, unemployment is high and slums are forming. It is not difficult to speculate on what will happen in the future.

Agents Beef Up Force In Chlorine Job

Twenty-four agents of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission arrived here. They will augment a force of 50 state policemen in helping clear out the population in case one of four chlorine gas tanks at the bottom of the Mississippi river springs a leak.

R. P. Easterly, chief of the enforcement division of the commission, said that the agents "hve been assigned to assist with communications in the area."

Meanwhile, at the barge site itself, divers are taking extra precautions as they use cutting torches to remove portions of a platform situated over the tanks on the barge.

Double asbestos blankets are being placed around the area being cut.

Two small corners of the piping have been removed. Detailed plans for removing the operating deck are being drawn from information furnished by the divers.

One of the derrick barges to be used in hauling the tanks to the surface has been anchored over the chlorine site.

Mitchell, for many years dean of men and a professor of mechanical engineering at Tech, will be unveiled by his grandson, William Leroy Mitchell III, now a student at the college here. The Mitchell portrait was painted by H. C. Moffett, West Monroe artist.

S. X. Lewis, dean of students at Tech, will dedicate the building.

The annual homecoming parade will form on the campus at noon and proceed along Ruston streets.

It also enumerates actions prohibited, including prosecution of a false voter registration charge against Meredith, any civil action against Meredith, any attempt to secure state court injunctions against the Negro, or "injuring, harassing, threatening or intimidating James Howard Meredith in any other way or by any other means."

Bell and Gewin in their dissenting opinion said they would make the injunction the mandate of the circuit court and forward it to the district court in Mississippi for enforcement.

"The remand should tend to restore normalcy in Mississippi," they said. "Of course we should retain the contempt proceedings now pending against Gov. Barnett and Lt. Gov. Johnson for final disposition."

"The governor and lieutenant governor must yield in order to purge themselves of contempt," Bell and Gewin said. "Upon their yielding, the enforcement of all other outstanding orders in this matter would and should be the duty of the district court."

The dissenting judges also said they would dissolve a temporary restraining order. The majority decision denied the state's motion to dissolve the order and to dismiss the contempt proceedings against Barnett and Johnson.

The decision said the state of Mississippi through its official policy had engaged "in actively frustrating the execution of this court's injunction against the officials of the university."

"This court has ample power to proceed against any party, including the state of Mississippi, which is shown to be engaged in a willfull, intentional effort to frustrate this court's injunction," the decision said.

The justice department asked that the state be named in the injunction.

The court said evidence showed that Mississippi state, county and city officials were threatening to implement the provisions of an interposition resolution adopted by the Mississippi Legislature and a proclamation by Barnett asserting the doctrine that the state can interpose its authority between citizens and the federal government.

The court held that actions of the defendants, unless enjoined, would impair the integrity of federal judicial processes, obstruct the administration of justice and deprive Meredith of his constitutional rights.

The injunction named the state, Barnett, nine other persons and their agents, employes, officers, successors "and all persons in active concert or participation with them who shall receive actual notice of this injunction by personal service or otherwise."

The seven judges of the appeals court could send Barnett and Johnson to jail, fine them thousands of dollars or declare them clear of court contempt.

The Mississippi officials were held in contempt of the federal court last month for their refusals to admit Negro James H. Meredith to the university. He finally was admitted after rioting and bloodshed.

The judges met in Atlanta as a matter of convenience in what an aide described as an informal session to discuss the Meredith case.

Meredith's attorneys have asked the appellate court to jail Barnett and Johnson until they show they will comply with court orders.

Attorneys for the Mississippi officials argued that the court no longer has jurisdiction since Meredith has been admitted to the formerly white university.

Barnett has said he doesn't consider himself in contempt.

The Justice Department asked the court to fine Barnett $10,000 a day starting Oct. 2, the date set for his showing he had purged himself of contempt. Johnson face a $5,000 a day fine.

Meeting with Tuttle were judges Griffin B. Bell of Atlanta; John Minor Wisdom, New Orleans; John Brown, Houston; Warren L. Jones, Jacksonville, Fla.; Walter Gewin, Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Richard T. Rives, Montgomery, Ala.

The other two 5th circuit judges have not participated in all the hearings.

Big Game Hunters

In preparation of a special "zoo day" at the Monroe zoo October 28th, the Optimists, led by zoo director Kit Beecher, wrestled with a 28-foot python to pose for the photographer.

Beecher held the giant snake by the neck while the Optimists clung to the body of the big reptile. He explained later that the python was powerful enough to squeeze the life out of a man.

The Optimists will sponsor "A Day at the Zoo with Arthur Jones" October 28th featuring Jones' exhibitions and a variety of new animals and reptiles that will be seen by the public when the zoo's new apehouse is opened to the public on that day.

Kennedy Offers To Meet With Soviet Premier

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was reported Friday to have sent word to Khrushchev that he is willing to talk with the Soviet premier about Berlin if Khrushchev comes to the United States.

Kennedy's reaction, conveyed to Russian Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko Thursday, was described as falling short of an invitation to any formal two-man summit parley on the festering German dispute.

Rather, the President's position was portrayed as neutral, in this fashion:

If Khrushchev does decide to visit the United Nations a month hence and wants to talk to Kennedy about Berlin, as he has said he might, then the President would see Khrushchev in an entirely informal way.

Aides said Kennedy does not want to rebuff Khrushchev by refusing to meet him.

bond issue passes, but he announced, "Now we can start letting contracts in November."

Contracts totalling $26 million will be let in November to cover 50 miles of farm - to - market roads provided the bond issue is passed, he said.

Pointing out that the bond issue is designed to continue the state's highway construction program, Burgess advised the contractors to prepare to bid on jobs that will cost $15 million rather than one or $2 million.

Like Burgess, Jackson cautioned the contractors about a "lack of funds" to keep the Louisiana school system in step with its growth, pointing out that over $600 million had been spent for new schools over the past 14 years.

Jackson did not mention the upcoming gubernatorial campaign, but earlier indicated — as he has done many times in the past — that he will be a candidate.

Meantime, Frank F. Burrows, president of the National AGC, of Belmont, Calif. touched on problems facing contractors, including the possibility of a 35-hour week.

But he said the attitude of the National Labor Relations Board made the "problems tougher." He said the construction industry was faced with "excessive demands" from labor.

Burrows also noted that while fiscal records showed all - time high construction, the actual amount of construction reflected a different picture.

A division engineer of the U.S. Department of Highways, Lyman G. Youngs, also advised the AGC that contractors need to improve their "public image."

He said the public hears about graft, theft and corruption in highway construction, but blamed most of this on "irresponsible little people."

J. H. Scogin Jr., president of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the convention to Monroe.

Following a general session this morning, the convention will feature panel discussions, a report on resolutions and a dance at the country club.

Stocks Take Sharp Drop; Trade Heavy

The downfall was broad, extending through the steel, motors, utilities, chemicals and rails categories. The more volatile growth stocks took the deeper losses.

The sharp drop was apparently Wall Street's opinion of the Federal Reserve Board's decision to cut reserve requirements on bank time deposits, a move designed to smooth the flow of money.

Of 1,297 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 843 declined, and 139 hit their lowest prices of 1962. There were only 211 advances.

The picture was apparent early when the ticker fell behind in a million-share second hour. Losses were cut for awhile, but the descent resumed in the afternoon. Twice more the ticker fell behind.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 2.5 to 213.6, the greatest loss since Sept. 26, when the drop was 2.7. The Standard & Poor's 500-stock index fell .75 at 55.59 and the Dow Jones industrial average was off 7.86 at 573.29.

Based on the AP average, some $3.6 billion was shorn from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Volume swelled to 4.65 million shares from 3.28 million Thursday. It was the largest volume since five million shares changed hands Sept. 24.

New Ranger Moon Launch Due In 1963

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The United States mapped a new moon shot Friday equipped for the sharpest lunar pictures yet, as scientists sought clues to their third straight moon probe failure.

The 755-pound Ranger 5 rocket sped on toward the moon at 3,107 miles per hour. It takes its television camera within 300 miles of the moon Sunday, but to no avail.

It has no power.

The spacecraft lost its electrical power eight hours and 44 minutes after a perfect launching Thursday from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The reason: apparent failure of its wing-like solar panels to take energy from the sun, scientists said. The exact cause may take weeks to determine.

Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which built Ranger 5, said work is going ahead on Ranger 6, another moon scouting vehicle scheduled for launching in the first four months of 1963.

Ranger 6 will carry six television cameras capable of high-quality shots of the moon from 10 minutes' rocket distance away until the instant of crash landing. Ranger 5 carried only one camera capable of pictures about a third the quality of home television—the best available when the project was set up, a laboratory spokesman said. Nothing is intended to survive the impact in the next shot. The ill-fated Ranger 5 contained a survival package to measure moonquakes.

"The remand should tend to restore normalcy in Mississippi," they said. "Of course we should retain the contempt proceedings now pending against Gov. Barnett and Lt. Gov. Johnson for final disposition."

"The governor and lieutenant governor must yield in order to purge themselves of contempt," Bell and Gewin said. "Upon their yielding, the enforcement of all other outstanding orders in this matter would and should be the duty of the district court."

The dissenting judges also said they would dissolve a temporary restraining order. The majority decision denied the state's motion to dissolve the order and to dismiss the contempt proceedings against Barnett and Johnson.

The decision said the state of Mississippi through its official policy had engaged "in actively frustrating the execution of this court's injunction against the officials of the university."

"This court has ample power to proceed against any party, including the state of Mississippi, which is shown to be engaged in a willfull, intentional effort to frustrate this court's injunction," the decision said.

The justice department asked that the state be named in the injunction.

The court said evidence showed that Mississippi state, county and city officials were threatening to implement the provisions of an interposition resolution adopted by the Mississippi Legislature and a proclamation by Barnett asserting the doctrine that the state can interpose its authority between citizens and the federal government.

The court held that actions of the defendants, unless enjoined, would impair the integrity of federal judicial processes, obstruct the administration of justice and deprive Meredith of his constitutional rights.

The injunction named the state, Barnett, nine other persons and their agents, employes, officers, successors "and all persons in active concert or participation with them who shall receive actual notice of this injunction by personal service or otherwise."

The seven judges of the appeals court could send Barnett and Johnson to jail, fine them thousands of dollars or declare them clear of court contempt.

The Mississippi officials were held in contempt of the federal court last month for their refusals to admit Negro James H. Meredith to the university. He finally was admitted after rioting and bloodshed.

The judges met in Atlanta as a matter of convenience in what an aide described as an informal session to discuss the Meredith case.

Meredith's attorneys have asked the appellate court to jail Barnett and Johnson until they show they will comply with court orders.

Attorneys for the Mississippi officials argued that the court no longer has jurisdiction since Meredith has been admitted to the formerly white university.

Barnett has said he doesn't consider himself in contempt.

The Justice Department asked the court to fine Barnett $10,000 a day starting Oct. 2, the date set for his showing he had purged himself of contempt. Johnson face a $5,000 a day fine.

Meeting with Tuttle were judges Griffin B. Bell of Atlanta; John Minor Wisdom, New Orleans; John Brown, Houston; Warren L. Jones, Jacksonville, Fla.; Walter Gewin, Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Richard T. Rives, Montgomery, Ala.

The other two 5th circuit judges have not participated in all the hearings.

Big Game Hunters

In preparation of a special "zoo day" at the Monroe zoo October 28th, the Optimists, led by zoo director Kit Beecher, wrestled with a 28-foot python to pose for the photographer.

Beecher held the giant snake by the neck while the Optimists clung to the body of the big reptile. He explained later that the python was powerful enough to squeeze the life out of a man.

The Optimists will sponsor "A Day at the Zoo with Arthur Jones" October 28th featuring Jones' exhibitions and a variety of new animals and reptiles that will be seen by the public when the zoo's new apehouse is opened to the public on that day.

Kennedy Offers To Meet With Soviet Premier

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was reported Friday to have sent word to Khrushchev that he is willing to talk with the Soviet premier about Berlin if Khrushchev comes to the United States.

Kennedy's reaction, conveyed to Russian Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko Thursday, was described as falling short of an invitation to any formal two-man summit parley on the festering German dispute.

Rather, the President's position was portrayed as neutral, in this fashion:

If Khrushchev does decide to visit the United Nations a month hence and wants to talk to Kennedy about Berlin, as he has said he might, then the President would see Khrushchev in an entirely informal way.

Aides said Kennedy does not want to rebuff Khrushchev by refusing to meet him.

Stocks Take Sharp Drop; Trade Heavy

The downfall was broad, extending through the steel, motors, utilities, chemicals and rails categories. The more volatile growth stocks took the deeper losses.

The sharp drop was apparently Wall Street's opinion of the Federal Reserve Board's decision to cut reserve requirements on bank time deposits, a move designed to smooth the flow of money.

Of 1,297 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 843 declined, and 139 hit their lowest prices of 1962. There were only 211 advances.

The picture was apparent early when the ticker fell behind in a million-share second hour. Losses were cut for awhile, but the descent resumed in the afternoon. Twice more the ticker fell behind.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 2.5 to 213.6, the greatest loss since Sept. 26, when the drop was 2.7. The Standard & Poor's 500-stock index fell .75 at 55.59 and the Dow Jones industrial average was off 7.86 at 573.29.

Based on the AP average, some $3.6 billion was shorn from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Volume swelled to 4.65 million shares from 3.28 million Thursday. It was the largest volume since five million shares changed hands Sept. 24.

Courier of Truth and Freedom

It was a clear, cold night in April. The year was 1775. The colonies stood on the brink of revolution. The overt act that would lead to war was only days away.

The official courier for the Massachusetts Provincial Association was a silversmith named Paul Revere. His horse was Scheherazade. On the night of April 18th they rode a strand of moonlight into the pages of history.

One hundred and eighty-seven years later your newspaperboy carries this tradition with him as he bicycles down your block.

His responsibility is a grave one. He's a courier of truth and freedom, the link between a free press and a free people in a troubled world.

Northeast State Goes Lion Hunting Tonight

Tribe To Face Southeastern In Hammond

Only once in 11 years have the Monroe Indians knocked off Southeastern. That victory came in 1958 by a 22-8 count.

A triumph tonight would add luster to a so - so Northeast season that has so far produced one victory and three defeats, the last two by less than a touchdown. Stan Galloway's Lions have easily defeated all four of their foes and are perched atop the Gulf States Conference standings along with Northwestern, both with 1-0 marks.

Myrick, Pete Vincent and Mike Cooper are the Indian quarterbacks. Sophomore Myrick is the GSC's leading scorer with 24 points and leads the club in total offense. Vincent is a versatile athlete with an accurate toe while Cooper is probably the squad's best passer.

In Gulf States Conference offensive rankings, Myrick is second in total offense and Newton fourth. Newton has gained more yards rushing than any other GSC back while John Kelly is the punting leader with a 37.8 average.

Southeastern boasts a fast-paced running attack, a Lion trademark, and has two good passers in Dick Cothern and Brent Roussell. Cothern is fifth in GSC passing with 10 completions in 16 throws for 127 yards while Roussell is fifth in total offense with 196 yards.

Outstanding Lion runners are fullback Darryl Morris, halfbacks David Gleason and Ellis Johnson and Roussell, who has gained 166 of his yards on the ground.

Northeast Coach Jack Rowan has shuffled two of his three units this week and moved 10 members of the Maroon club up to the starting team. Myrick will still quarterback the starters with Vincent running the new Maroon team and Cooper handling the Apaches.

Southeastern defeated Northeast, 7-0, on its way to the GSC co - championship last season.

SET FOR action tonight in Northeast's road game with Southeastern are speedy halfbacks Gordon Salsman (left) and Dean Mann. Salsman, a senior from Lewisville, Tex., has gained 30-yards on eight rushes and caught two passes for 37-yards. Mann, though only a sophomore, will start on the Gold team at tailback. He is a former Byrd High star.

SATURDAY NIGHT

Stovall Is Tigers' Key Against Wildcat Attack

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Jerry Woolum, who is fighting to maintain his starting quarterback position at Kentucky, may well be the key to the Wildcats' changes against Louisiana State in a Southeastern Conference football game Saturday night.

Another Jerry — All - America candidate Jeery Stovall, a halfback—definitely is the key to the offense of the nationally fourth-ranked Tigers.

Woolum, who missed last week's Detroit game with an injury, more than once has been a thorn in the LSU flesh.

Last year at Baton Rouge, Woolum gave LSU supporters numerous scares with his passing. With Kentucky trailing 14-0, Woolum passed the Tigers dizzy for a half and pulled the Wildcats into a 14-14 tie — but LSU went on to win 24-14.

Stovall, one of the best running backs in the country, proved it by returning a kickoff 98 yards against Georgia Tech two weeks ago to spark a 10-7 LSU victory. Both he and Woolum are seniors.

It was in Kentucky's 27-8 victory over Detroit that Coach Charlie Bradshaw uncovered another quarterback — junior Elmer Jackson.

Jackson, who hadn't played a minute this season, guided the Wildcats with an almost expert hand, and looked to be a much better running quarterback than Woolum.

Bradshaw has been alternating both at quarterback this week and may not know until game time which will start.

Besides its victory over Detroit, Kentucky has lost 14-0 to Mississippi, 16-6 to Auburn and played a scoreless tie in its opener against Florida State.

LSU is sporting a 14-game regular season unbeaten streak, marred only by a tie with Rice three weeks ago. The Tigers own victories over Texas A&M, Georgia Tech and Miami this year and are solid favorites Saturday night.

NORTH, SOUTH MEET

Lanman, Ross Gain Finals Of Tourney

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Retired Marine Col. William K. Lanman and 68-year-old Frank Ross won semifinals matches Friday, gaining the finals in the North and South Seniors Golf Tournament.

Lanman and Ross will play their 18-hole final match Saturday over the par 72, 6,500-yard No. 2 course here.

It will be Lanman's first try at the North and South senior title. He went to the final of the USGA Seniors at Tulsa, Okla., in 1951, where he defeated Guelich 2 and 1. Ross, of West Hartford, Conn., is making his fourth bid for the crown here. He is a former U.S. Seniors and New England Seniors champ.

Lanman was 4-over-par for the 17 holes he needed to oust Guelich. Lanman's round included two birdies and six bogies. He had four three-putt greens.

Ross made the turn 3-up and 2-over-par. He ran in a birdie putt to win 10, lost No. 11 when he was in a trap at the green and took two to get out, then won 13 with a birdie three. Francis birdied 14 with a 12-foot putt and they halved the next two holes with pars to end the match.

Four Lettermen Will Return For Bearcat Season

RUSTON (Special) — Coach Denman Garner of Ruston High will have a difficult time this year in molding a basketball team comparable to his State Class AA Championship teams of the past two years.

Only four of his ten player squad of last year will be back, Jackson Thigpen, Carroll Cathy, Reggie Cassibry and James Demoss, only Thigpen and Cathy were starters.

Charles Shuffield who made All - State two years will play at Western Kentucky this year. Lawson Swearingen, great center and rebounder is at Northeast State. The other starter, Leon Barmore, also an All - Stater will be out for Coach Cecil Crowley's team at Louisiana Tech.

Besides the four squad members from last year's championship team, Thigpen, Cassibry, Cathy and Demoss, Coach Garner has five seniors out for the team and several promising juniors and one transfer from Jonesboro - Hodge.

For the past few weeks Coach Garner has been drilling his players on the fundamentals of the game. Garner is well pleased with the way his players are working but he says that he cannot tell whether his Bearcats will repeat as State Champions until the season starts on the 15th of November. Ruston won the state championship in 1956, 1961 and 1962.

Southwest Texas Cardinal Clash To Settle Lead

BEAUMONT, Tex., (Special)—The Lone Star Conference lead will be settled Saturday night in Greenie Stadium when Lamar Tech and Southwest Texas clash, but the winner will still have a long way to go before he can claim all the marbles.

Both the Cardinals and the Bobcats are undefeated in league action, but breathing down their necks are Sam Houston State and Texas A&I who only have ties to mar their records, and once beaten and tied East Texas State is a foe to be reckoned with.

Saturday's contest will be the 11th meeting between the two teams, with SWT holding the edge in the won - loss column with seven outright victories and one tie.

The Redbird lineup, for the first time in five games, appears to have settled down to a definite eleven players. The only change in the Red 1 lineup has Billy McBay moving to a starting tight end slot from his starting split end position, and former halfback Richard Prejean taking over full command at split end.

Going for Tech in the backfield will be Win Hebert at quarterback, Ronnie Wright at weakside halfback, Harold Lafitte at strongside halfback and Ralph Stone at fullback.

Bonus Given In 3 Flyways Of Two Ducks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hunters in three flyways may shoot a daily bonus of two ducks in addition to regular limits this season, but they had better hold fire until they see the whites of their wings.

The Fish and Wildlife Service said Friday the bonus shooting is limited to Scaup ducks and that potting the wrong kind of duck could subject a hunter to fines up to $500 and six months in jail or both. Officials said a $25 fine is more common.

"If a hunter can't identify Scaup on the wing and collects the regular limit of other ducks first, he had better call it a day," the service said.

Officials are distributing drawings showing the distinguishing marks of a Scaup, including "a white stripe lengthwise on the upper wing surface and broad unmarked blue-gray bill."

But, since the hunters will be looking up at the ducks on the wing, the white stripe will be difficult to spot. From underneath, the Scaup wing shows a dark edge.

The bonus shooting will apply this season in the Atlantic, Mississippi and Central flyways, officials said.

The Scaup population is comparatively heavy compared with other species which were severely reduced by prairie drought, the announcement said. Scaups nest primarily outside prairie areas.

The service emphasized the identification difficulties in cautioning hunters against mistaking Scaups for other species.

"Even expert hunters have difficulty in distinguishing Ringneck ducks from Scaup while on the wing," the service said.

The permissible bag of two Scaups a day is in addition to the regular federal-state limits that apply in the various states of the three flyways.

Halfway Lead Is Captured By Tony Lema

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP)—Handsome Tony Lema, the hottest player on the PGA fall tour, continued his torrid play by shooting a 5-under-par 34-32—66 Friday for a one-shot lead at the halfway mark of the $25,000 Ontario Golf Open.

Lema, former Marine from San Leandro, Calif., has a 36-hole total of 135, 7-under-par.

One shot behind him at 136 were young Al Geiberger of Carlton Oaks, Calif., and veteran Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex.

First-round leader Bob Pratt of Las Vegas, Nev., slipped to an even-par 71 for 137 and a tie for fourth place with Cas Jawor, a physical education teacher from Detroit. Jawor shot 66, the lowest round, shared by four other players.

Lema, who has picked up $16,000 in the last five weeks and who won the Las Vegas Pro-Am tournament two weeks ago, had seven birdies and two bogies. He three-putted the ninth green from 20 feet and was bunkered on the 16th for his only errors.

Hawkins, who has not won a PGA tourney since 1956, credited his fine 66 to a new putter he picked up in the bargain barrel just before he started his round. Hawkins bogied the first hole, then played flawless golf with six birds and 11 pars.

Date Set For Paper Bowl In Jonesboro

JONESBORO (Special) — The fourth annual Paper Bowl football game will be played Wednesday night, November 21st, the night immediately preceding Thanksgiving, according to an announcement issued by the Kiwanis Club of Jonesboro-Hodge sponsor of the event.

The game will be played at Caldwell - Peacock Stadium in Jonesboro and has been officially approved by T. H. "Muddy" Waters, Commissioner of the Louisiana High School Athletic Association.

Since the start of the current prep season the team selection committee has been carefully comparing the records of the better ball clubs throughout the state to again assure Paper Bowl fans of another outstanding contest. The teams appearing thus far in these post - season classics have been so evenly matched that two of the games played ended in ties. Springhill's Lumberjacks powered past LaSalle 20-6 in 1960 to take the series only victory, with Ouachita tying the North Caddo Rebels in the 1959 opener 7-7 and Mansfield's Wolverines playing Jonesboro - Hodge to another 7-7 deadlock last year.

FOR DEMONS

Tech's Ground Attack May Present Trouble

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech's passing attack is its "bread and butter," but a budding ground attack may present problems for the Northwestern State Demons in the annual State Fair clash in Shreveport Saturday night.

Paul Labenne, the Shreveport junior halfback, returns to action against NSC after a week layoff due to injury. A sophomore and freshman have been carrying the brunt of the Bulldog ground game and have done well so far.

Wayne Noland, Tallulah sophomore, and Gerald McDowell, Sulphur freshman, have been moving the ball well for Tech. Both are fullbacks. Noland has gained 82 yards in 28 attempts while McDowell has 136 yards for 37 carries.

Lebenne has 120 yards in 26 trips with the ball and rates as the club's best all-round ball carrier. Shreveport soph Jack Odom is another who has shown good ball carrying ability and he is also good pass receiver, as is Labenne.

Senior Mickey Slaughter and freshman Billy Laird have plenty of capable targets for their passes. Six Tech backs or ends have caught four or more passes during the first three games.

Slaughter has clicked on 29 of 52 aerials for 304 yards. Larid has hit on 14 of 21 for 157 yards. The top receiver is Odom, who has nine for 78 yards.

Jerry Griffin, the loop's best receiver a year ago, got a slow start this campaign but five catches against Arlington State upped his total to eight for 68 yards.

Labenne has five receptions for 58 yards; sophomore Corky Cokern five for 74 yards; David Lee for 51 yards, and freshman Wayne Davis four for 37 yards.

Both Tech and NSC have good pass defense records. Tech has permitted foes only 12 completions in 32 attempts while intercepting six. The Demons have allowed less than 40 yards per game passing and have also intercepted six, but in five games.

Tech has a 2-1 record. Northwestern is 3-1-1. The Demons are 1-0 in loop play while Tech is 1-1.

Winnsboro's Pee-Wee Grid Team To Play

WINNSBORO (Special) — The Winnsboro Pee-Wee football traveling team will participate in a Pee-Wee bowl game to be played Saturday, November 10, at Bastrop, with four teams entered.

Play will start Saturday and continue through the afternoon until a champion is determined.

The Pines Club of the International Paper Company will be the social center and a buffet supper will be served Saturday evening.

New York Tops Angels, 116-105

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Knickerbockers broke away in the last quarter to defeat the Los Angeles Lakers 116-105 in a National Basketball Association game Friday night in Madison Square Garden.

The Knicks outscored the Lakers 40-28 in the final quarter after the Lakers led 77-76 at the end of three quarters. Up to that point the lead changed 13 times and the score was tied 12 times.

The Lakers' Elgin Baylor emerged with 36 points, 26 of them in the first half, while the Knicks' scoring was led by Richie Guerin, 27, and Johnny Green, 22. They scored 22 of the team's points in the final quarter.

Panfil On Waiver

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis football Cardinals placed tackle Ken Panfil on the injury waiver list Friday, reducing the squad to the league limit of 35.

The 270-pound Panfil missed almost all of last season with a knee injury and the bad knee still bothers him.

Northeast State Goes Lion Hunting Tonight

Tribe To Face Southeastern In Hammond

Only once in 11 years have the Monroe Indians knocked off Southeastern. That victory came in 1958 by a 22-8 count.

A triumph tonight would add luster to a so - so Northeast season that has so far produced one victory and three defeats, the last two by less than a touchdown. Stan Galloway's Lions have easily defeated all four of their foes and are perched atop the Gulf States Conference standings along with Northwestern, both with 1-0 marks.

Myrick, Pete Vincent and Mike Cooper are the Indian quarterbacks. Sophomore Myrick is the GSC's leading scorer with 24 points and leads the club in total offense. Vincent is a versatile athlete with an accurate toe while Cooper is probably the squad's best passer.

In Gulf States Conference offensive rankings, Myrick is second in total offense and Newton fourth. Newton has gained more yards rushing than any other GSC back while John Kelly is the punting leader with a 37.8 average.

Southeastern boasts a fast-paced running attack, a Lion trademark, and has two good passers in Dick Cothern and Brent Roussell. Cothern is fifth in GSC passing with 10 completions in 16 throws for 127 yards while Roussell is fifth in total offense with 196 yards.

Outstanding Lion runners are fullback Darryl Morris, halfbacks David Gleason and Ellis Johnson and Roussell, who has gained 166 of his yards on the ground.

Northeast Coach Jack Rowan has shuffled two of his three units this week and moved 10 members of the Maroon club up to the starting team. Myrick will still quarterback the starters with Vincent running the new Maroon team and Cooper handling the Apaches.

Southeastern defeated Northeast, 7-0, on its way to the GSC co - championship last season.

Four Lettermen Will Return For Bearcat Season

RUSTON (Special) — Coach Denman Garner of Ruston High will have a difficult time this year in molding a basketball team comparable to his State Class AA Championship teams of the past two years.

Only four of his ten player squad of last year will be back, Jackson Thigpen, Carroll Cathy, Reggie Cassibry and James Demoss, only Thigpen and Cathy were starters.

Charles Shuffield who made All - State two years will play at Western Kentucky this year. Lawson Swearingen, great center and rebounder is at Northeast State. The other starter, Leon Barmore, also an All - Stater will be out for Coach Cecil Crowley's team at Louisiana Tech.

Besides the four squad members from last year's championship team, Thigpen, Cassibry, Cathy and Demoss, Coach Garner has five seniors out for the team and several promising juniors and one transfer from Jonesboro - Hodge.

For the past few weeks Coach Garner has been drilling his players on the fundamentals of the game. Garner is well pleased with the way his players are working but he says that he cannot tell whether his Bearcats will repeat as State Champions until the season starts on the 15th of November. Ruston won the state championship in 1956, 1961 and 1962.

SET FOR action tonight in Northeast's road game with Southeastern are speedy halfbacks Gordon Salsman (left) and Dean Mann. Salsman, a senior from Lewisville, Tex., has gained 30-yards on eight rushes and caught two passes for 37-yards. Mann, though only a sophomore, will start on the Gold team at tailback. He is a former Byrd High star.

SATURDAY NIGHT

Stovall Is Tigers' Key Against Wildcat Attack

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Jerry Woolum, who is fighting to maintain his starting quarterback position at Kentucky, may well be the key to the Wildcats' changes against Louisiana State in a Southeastern Conference football game Saturday night.

Another Jerry — All - America candidate Jeery Stovall, a halfback—definitely is the key to the offense of the nationally fourth-ranked Tigers.

Woolum, who missed last week's Detroit game with an injury, more than once has been a thorn in the LSU flesh.

Last year at Baton Rouge, Woolum gave LSU supporters numerous scares with his passing. With Kentucky trailing 14-0, Woolum passed the Tigers dizzy for a half and pulled the Wildcats into a 14-14 tie — but LSU went on to win 24-14.

Stovall, one of the best running backs in the country, proved it by returning a kickoff 98 yards against Georgia Tech two weeks ago to spark a 10-7 LSU victory. Both he and Woolum are seniors.

It was in Kentucky's 27-8 victory over Detroit that Coach Charlie Bradshaw uncovered another quarterback — junior Elmer Jackson.

Jackson, who hadn't played a minute this season, guided the Wildcats with an almost expert hand, and looked to be a much better running quarterback than Woolum.

Bradshaw has been alternating both at quarterback this week and may not know until game time which will start.

Besides its victory over Detroit, Kentucky has lost 14-0 to Mississippi, 16-6 to Auburn and played a scoreless tie in its opener against Florida State.

LSU is sporting a 14-game regular season unbeaten streak, marred only by a tie with Rice three weeks ago. The Tigers own victories over Texas A&M, Georgia Tech and Miami this year and are solid favorites Saturday night.

NORTH, SOUTH MEET

Lanman, Ross Gain Finals Of Tourney

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Retired Marine Col. William K. Lanman and 68-year-old Frank Ross won semifinals matches Friday, gaining the finals in the North and South Seniors Golf Tournament.

Lanman and Ross will play their 18-hole final match Saturday over the par 72, 6,500-yard No. 2 course here.

It will be Lanman's first try at the North and South senior title. He went to the final of the USGA Seniors at Tulsa, Okla., in 1951, where he defeated Guelich 2 and 1. Ross, of West Hartford, Conn., is making his fourth bid for the crown here. He is a former U.S. Seniors and New England Seniors champ.

Lanman was 4-over-par for the 17 holes he needed to oust Guelich. Lanman's round included two birdies and six bogies. He had four three-putt greens.

Ross made the turn 3-up and 2-over-par. He ran in a birdie putt to win 10, lost No. 11 when he was in a trap at the green and took two to get out, then won 13 with a birdie three. Francis birdied 14 with a 12-foot putt and they halved the next two holes with pars to end the match.

Southwest Texas Cardinal Clash To Settle Lead

BEAUMONT, Tex., (Special)—The Lone Star Conference lead will be settled Saturday night in Greenie Stadium when Lamar Tech and Southwest Texas clash, but the winner will still have a long way to go before he can claim all the marbles.

Both the Cardinals and the Bobcats are undefeated in league action, but breathing down their necks are Sam Houston State and Texas A&I who only have ties to mar their records, and once beaten and tied East Texas State is a foe to be reckoned with.

Saturday's contest will be the 11th meeting between the two teams, with SWT holding the edge in the won - loss column with seven outright victories and one tie.

The Redbird lineup, for the first time in five games, appears to have settled down to a definite eleven players. The only change in the Red 1 lineup has Billy McBay moving to a starting tight end slot from his starting split end position, and former halfback Richard Prejean taking over full command at split end.

Going for Tech in the backfield will be Win Hebert at quarterback, Ronnie Wright at weakside halfback, Harold Lafitte at strongside halfback and Ralph Stone at fullback.

Bonus Given In 3 Flyways Of Two Ducks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hunters in three flyways may shoot a daily bonus of two ducks in addition to regular limits this season, but they had better hold fire until they see the whites of their wings.

The Fish and Wildlife Service said Friday the bonus shooting is limited to Scaup ducks and that potting the wrong kind of duck could subject a hunter to fines up to $500 and six months in jail or both. Officials said a $25 fine is more common.

"If a hunter can't identify Scaup on the wing and collects the regular limit of other ducks first, he had better call it a day," the service said.

Officials are distributing drawings showing the distinguishing marks of a Scaup, including "a white stripe lengthwise on the upper wing surface and broad unmarked blue-gray bill."

But, since the hunters will be looking up at the ducks on the wing, the white stripe will be difficult to spot. From underneath, the Scaup wing shows a dark edge.

The bonus shooting will apply this season in the Atlantic, Mississippi and Central flyways, officials said.

The Scaup population is comparatively heavy compared with other species which were severely reduced by prairie drought, the announcement said. Scaups nest primarily outside prairie areas.

The service emphasized the identification difficulties in cautioning hunters against mistaking Scaups for other species.

"Even expert hunters have difficulty in distinguishing Ringneck ducks from Scaup while on the wing," the service said.

The permissible bag of two Scaups a day is in addition to the regular federal-state limits that apply in the various states of the three flyways.

Halfway Lead Is Captured By Tony Lema

Lema, former Marine from San Leandro, Calif., has a 36-hole total of 135, 7-under-par.

One shot behind him at 136 were young Al Geiberger of Carlton Oaks, Calif., and veteran Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex.

First-round leader Bob Pratt of Las Vegas, Nev., slipped to an even-par 71 for 137 and a tie for fourth place with Cas Jawor, a physical education teacher from Detroit. Jawor shot 66, the lowest round, shared by four other players.

Lema, who has picked up $16,000 in the last five weeks and who won the Las Vegas Pro-Am tournament two weeks ago, had seven birdies and two bogies. He three-putted the ninth green from 20 feet and was bunkered on the 16th for his only errors.

Hawkins, who has not won a PGA tourney since 1956, credited his fine 66 to a new putter he picked up in the bargain barrel just before he started his round. Hawkins bogied the first hole, then played flawless golf with six birds and 11 pars.

Date Set For Paper Bowl In Jonesboro

JONESBORO (Special) — The fourth annual Paper Bowl football game will be played Wednesday night, November 21st, the night immediately preceding Thanksgiving, according to an announcement issued by the Kiwanis Club of Jonesboro-Hodge sponsor of the event.

The game will be played at Caldwell - Peacock Stadium in Jonesboro and has been officially approved by T. H. "Muddy" Waters, Commissioner of the Louisiana High School Athletic Association.

Since the start of the current prep season the team selection committee has been carefully comparing the records of the better ball clubs throughout the state to again assure Paper Bowl fans of another outstanding contest. The teams appearing thus far in these post - season classics have been so evenly matched that two of the games played ended in ties. Springhill's Lumberjacks powered past LaSalle 20-6 in 1960 to take the series only victory, with Ouachita tying the North Caddo Rebels in the 1959 opener 7-7 and Mansfield's Wolverines playing Jonesboro - Hodge to another 7-7 deadlock last year.

FOR DEMONS

Tech's Ground Attack May Present Trouble

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech's passing attack is its "bread and butter," but a budding ground attack may present problems for the Northwestern State Demons in the annual State Fair clash in Shreveport Saturday night.

Paul Labenne, the Shreveport junior halfback, returns to action against NSC after a week layoff due to injury. A sophomore and freshman have been carrying the brunt of the Bulldog ground game and have done well so far.

Wayne Noland, Tallulah sophomore, and Gerald McDowell, Sulphur freshman, have been moving the ball well for Tech. Both are fullbacks. Noland has gained 82 yards in 28 attempts while McDowell has 136 yards for 37 carries.

Lebenne has 120 yards in 26 trips with the ball and rates as the club's best all-round ball carrier. Shreveport soph Jack Odom is another who has shown good ball carrying ability and he is also good pass receiver, as is Labenne.

Senior Mickey Slaughter and freshman Billy Laird have plenty of capable targets for their passes. Six Tech backs or ends have caught four or more passes during the first three games.

Slaughter has clicked on 29 of 52 aerials for 304 yards. Larid has hit on 14 of 21 for 157 yards. The top receiver is Odom, who has nine for 78 yards.

Jerry Griffin, the loop's best receiver a year ago, got a slow start this campaign but five catches against Arlington State upped his total to eight for 68 yards.

Labenne has five receptions for 58 yards; sophomore Corky Cokern five for 74 yards; David Lee for 51 yards, and freshman Wayne Davis four for 37 yards.

Both Tech and NSC have good pass defense records. Tech has permitted foes only 12 completions in 32 attempts while intercepting six. The Demons have allowed less than 40 yards per game passing and have also intercepted six, but in five games.

Tech has a 2-1 record. Northwestern is 3-1-1. The Demons are 1-0 in loop play while Tech is 1-1.

Winnsboro's Pee-Wee Grid Team To Play

WINNSBORO (Special) — The Winnsboro Pee-Wee football traveling team will participate in a Pee-Wee bowl game to be played Saturday, November 10, at Bastrop, with four teams entered.

Play will start Saturday and continue through the afternoon until a champion is determined.

The Pines Club of the International Paper Company will be the social center and a buffet supper will be served Saturday evening.

Panfil On Waiver

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis football Cardinals placed tackle Ken Panfil on the injury waiver list Friday, reducing the squad to the league limit of 35.

The 270-pound Panfil missed almost all of last season with a knee injury and the bad knee still bothers him.

Wayne Parkman kicked the PAT giving the Bearcats the contest after Melvin Shows had evened the score at 13-13 a few seconds earlier with a two yard plunge capping a 45 yard drive.

Early in the quarter Walter Holsonbeck went across from the two yard line ending a 50-yard drive by the visitors but the PAT kick was no good.

The Bearcats also got into the scoring act in the second period when Eddie Taylor shook loose for a 27 - yard run and carried the ball to the Pineville three-yard line. He took it over from that point.

Pineville's Lynn Kavanaugh dashed 59 - yards for a Rebel score in the final minute of the second period and carried the ball over for the PAT to give the visitors a 13-7 lead at the half.

Both the first and third periods were scoreless.

LaSalle Wins, 12-7

OLLA (Special) — The LaSalle Tigers scored as the final gun sounded to edge Mansfield's Wolverines, 12-7, in a battle of two of the state's Class A powers here Friday night. The non - district clash also was LaSalle's homecoming.

In the state Class A ratings this week, Mansfield had been ranked No. 1 and LaSalle No. 2. LaSalle is now 6-0 for the season, while the loss was the first for Mansfield and left the Wolverines at 6-1.

All the scoring came in a race with the clock, with both teams scoring in the final 32 seconds before the half.

LaSalle broke on top with 32 seconds left in the first half with Fullback Billy Masters plunging over from the one to end a 34-yard drive. Try for extra point failed. The scoring drive was set up by a pass interception.

On the first play following the kickoff, Quarterback Sammy Clifton connected with End Billy Lambright on a 70 - yard scoring pass with 13 second remaining. Clifton passed to Halfback Mike Eason for the extra point as Mansfield took a 7-6 lead.

That was the way it stayed until the closing seconds of the final period. With only four seconds left, Clifton dropped back for a pass. But Billy Masters hit him before he could get the pass away and the ball rolled free to set up Baker's winning gallop with the recovery.

De LaSalle, 12-7

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Seventh-ranked De La Salle avenged its only regular season loss of 1961 Friday night by beating Lafayette 12-7 in a triple-A game that erupted into a brawl in the second half.

Several punches were thrown, but no one was ejected from the game and no penalties assessed.

De La Salle scored first on an 11-yard run by Calvin Lannes, in the first period. But the Cavs had to come behind and hold off a Lafayette surge.

Lafayette, unable to move much in the first half, opened the second half with a 70-yard march in seven plays, capped by Maurice LeBlanc's 20-yard TD gallop. Warren Landry gave Lafayette a 7-6 lead.

But the Cavs came right back, moving 55 yards in 12 plays with Lannes scoring the winning touchdown from the eight. Mike Crosby, who had missed his first conversion try, succeeded this time.

Baton Rouge, 12-7

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — Spike Pierce guided Baton Rouge to a 12-7, come-from-behind victory over Bolton Friday night.

SWC Game Of Year Matches Hogs, Steers

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — What promises to be THE game of the Southwest Conference season as well as one of the key matches on the national college football scene comes up here Saturday night when Texas clashes with Arkansas.

Texas is top-ranked nationally and Arkansas is rated No. 7, and both are unbeaten-untied through four games.

Arkansas has won or tied for the conference championship the past three seasons. Last year the Razorbacks shared the title with Texas' Longhorns, who trimmed Arkansas 33-7 in regular season play and went on to represent the Southwest in the Cotton Bowl.

The game, which figures to draw a record Memorial Stadium crowd of 64,130 and is generally conceded to be the one that will determine where the 1962 SWC title will go, matches the top offensive and defensive teams in the league.

Arkansas gears its offense to peppery Billy Moore, who leads the conference in total offense, rushing and scoring. The pass-run option specialist is looked upon as the leading All-American contender for the conference.

Texas has been containing all of the heralded players with its iron defense but Moore presents a special problem. He has about every way imaginable of beating the opposition.

Texas' offense centers around big fullback Ray Poage, a fine ball-carrier as well as blocker. Kicking also is a very important factor in Texas' play and in Ernie Koy the Longhorns have one of the top punters of conference history.

Coach Darrell Royal shook up his starting line-up this week, the most important change being to send Duke Carlisle to quarterback replacing Johnny Genung. Carlisle earned the promotion with his performance in last week's 9-6 victory over Oklahoma.

Arkansas has two conference victories—42-14 over Texas Christian and 28-21 over Baylor. Texas has played only one conference game but showed power to burn in walloping Texas Tech 34-0.

Texas is a 5½-point favorite, which Royal disputes. He thinks the teams should be rated even. So many people wanted to see the game that 5,000 bleacher seats were added to the field. That still didn't take care of the demand.

19TH STRAIGHT WIN

Tigers Top Winnfield 27-0 For 2-AA Crown

WINNFIELD (Special) — Neville High's state champion Tigers wrapped up the district 2-AA race and extended their winning streak to 19 straight victories by blanking stubborn, but outmanned Winnfield 27-0 here Friday night.

The Tigers, paced by halfback Chip Planchard who scored two touchdowns, tallied in every quarter but the fourth in winning their seventh game in a row this year.

Planchard scored on runs of 57-yards (longest run of the night) and three yards. His 57-yarder came in the third period and was the last Neville tally. It started on the Tiger 41. Fullback Don Johnson picked up two yards on the first play from scrimmage, then Planchard found an opening in the middle of the Winnfield line, burst through and went all the way.

Jimmy Howard's kick was no good.

The first Planchard TD capped a 70-yard Neville drive that took nine plays. After the Neville halfback had scored from three yards out, Howard kicked the last of three strught conversion for a 21-0 halftime lead.

Howard turned in a one-man performance in leading Neville to its first score. The sterling Tiger senior did a rerun of his old interception tricks, snaring a wayward aerial at the Wnnfield 45.

Ten plays later Neville was at the Winnfield three and Howard went across with 11 seconds to go in the quarter.

In the second period Neville drove from its 47 in 12 plays to score with halfback Gary Pappas crashing over from the three.

Late in the fourth quarter Neville drove to the Winnfield five-yard line, but fumbled and lost the ball.

The last time the two teams met was seven years ago, with Winnfield scoring on the last play of the game to win 13-12.

Arnold Palmer Plays Toughest Round Of Golf

LONDON (AP)—Arnold Palmer wound up what he described as the toughest round of his golf career Friday.

"It was certainly over the most hazardous course I've ever played," said Palmer, "and with some of the oddest players—Bob Hope and a chimpanzee named Charlie."

Palmer flew here from the United States last week to appear in Hope's new movie. In the film, Palmer plays the role of a golf pro on a course in Africa.

While the cameras whirl, he's been playing chip shots off the backs of elephants and instructing Hope on how to play around a hippopotamus.

These weren't the only distractions.

At one point—when he was trying to drop a 30-foot putt—a herd of zebras stampeded behind him.

"And then there were those hyenas," said Palmer, "I don't know where they got them, but they kept laughing while I was shooting."

Rebels Meet Green Wave In Jackson

The Rebels and Green Wave, their series a venerable 70 years old, meet for the 43rd time since 1893. The game is one of the week end's headliners matching SEC members.

A year ago the two teams played before 40,000 in the first year of operations for Mississippi's new Memorial Stadium. The 1960 game in New Orleans attracted 72,000.

Saturday night's skirmish will find the Rebs bidding for a renewal of the stepped-up offense which flashed past Houston two weeks ago. Guided by quarterback Glynn Griffing, who notched four aerial touchdowns, the Rebels ran and passed for 451 yards in a 40-7 conquest.

Completing 32 of 50 passes for 417 yards, Griffing is second in SEC figures and is third in total offense yardage with 482, this after three games to four.

Boston Steered Past San Diego By Babe Parilli

BOSTON (AP) — Quarterback Babe Parilli, mixing his plays with sudden mastery, steered Boston through a dramatic second half comeback worth three touchdowns and a 24-20 American Football League victory over San Diego Friday night.

The favored Patriots, rocked back on their heels and behind 20-3 at intermission, came to life in a display of smoothness which produced its big scoring spree in less than 8½ minutes.

Parilli earlier had launched touchdown passes of 10 and 25 yards to Jimmy Colclough.

Meanwhile, the Patriots defense, which had been so porous to Dick Wood's passing in the first half, reacted brilliantly.

Joe Bondurant also performed well for the Tigers as he kicked all four extra points.

Davidson picked up its lone tally in the last period on a 20 yard pass play from Chester Hoover to Tommy Gregory. The extra point attempt failed.

Miss Pam Franks reigned as queen over the homecoming festivities with Judy Krause as her maid of honor. Other members of the court include: Misses Peggy Krause, Sue Turnage, Joyce Baum, Diane Chambliss, Janice Boyd and Sue Etheridge.

LaSalle Wins, 12-7

OLLA (Special) — The LaSalle Tigers scored as the final gun sounded to edge Mansfield's Wolverines, 12-7, in a battle of two of the state's Class A powers here Friday night. The non - district clash also was LaSalle's homecoming.

With only four seconds left on the clock and LaSalle trailing, 7-6, End Mike Baker scooped up a fumble and sped 80 yards for the winning touchdown as time expired.

In the state Class A ratings this week, Mansfield had been ranked No. 1 and LaSalle No. 2. LaSalle is now 6-0 for the season, while the loss was the first for Mansfield and left the Wolverines at 6-1.

All the scoring came in a race with the clock, with both teams scoring in the final 32 seconds before the half.

LaSalle broke on top with 32 seconds left in the first half with Fullback Billy Masters plunging over from the one to end a 34-yard drive. Try for extra point failed. The scoring drive was set up by a pass interception.

On the first play following the kickoff, Quarterback Sammy Clifton connected with End Billy Lambright on a 70 - yard scoring pass with 13 second remaining. Clifton passed to Halfback Mike Eason for the extra point as Mansfield took a 7-6 lead.

That was the way it stayed until the closing seconds of the final period. With only four seconds left, Clifton dropped back for a pass. But Billy Masters hit him before he could get the pass away and the ball rolled free to set up Baker's winning gallop with the recovery.

LaSalle led in first downs, 12 to 10, while Mansfield came out on top in total yardage, 230 to 198.

De LaSalle, 12-7

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Seventh-ranked De La Salle avenged its only regular season loss of 1961 Friday night by beating Lafayette 12-7 in a triple-A game that erupted into a brawl in the second half.

Several punches were thrown, but no one was ejected from the game and no penalties assessed.

De La Salle scored first on an 11-yard run by Calvin Lannes, in the first period. But the Cavs had to come behind and hold off a Lafayette surge.

Lafayette, unable to move much in the first half, opened the second half with a 70-yard march in seven plays, capped by Maurice LeBlanc's 20-yard TD gallop. Warren Landry gave Lafayette a 7-6 lead.

But the Cavs came right back, moving 55 yards in 12 plays with Lannes scoring the winning touchdown from the eight. Mike Crosby, who had missed his first conversion try, succeeded this time.

Baton Rouge, 12-7

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — Spike Pierce guided Baton Rouge to a 12-7, come-from-behind victory over Bolton Friday night.

Pierce fired a touchdown pass 23 yards to Floyd Giblin in the end zone in the third period and a shortie to halfback Chuck Hill in the fourth quarter.

Baton Rouge failed on both conversion attempts.

Bogalusa Wins

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The aerial wizadry of Greg Honaker led third-ranked Bogalusa to a 28-0 triple-A whitewash of Behrman Friday night.

Paul Calamari scored from the 2-yard stripe early in the second period for the first touchdown. Honaker, who set up the score with a toss to Larry Magee, converted.

Honaker's passing moved the Lumberjacks to the 3-yard stripe early in the third stanza and Larry Schilling crashed over for the tally.

Early in the final period Schilling snared a 29-yard Honaker toss for another touchdown. Schilling scored the final touchdown on a 6-yard toss from Honaker.

The victory was Bogalusa's seventh in as many outings. Behrman is now 1-7.

SWC Game Of Year Matches Hogs, Steers

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — What promises to be THE game of the Southwest Conference season as well as one of the key matches on the national college football scene comes up here Saturday night when Texas clashes with Arkansas.

Texas is top-ranked nationally and Arkansas is rated No. 7, and both are unbeaten-untied through four games.

Arkansas has won or tied for the conference championship the past three seasons. Last year the Razorbacks shared the title with Texas' Longhorns, who trimmed Arkansas 33-7 in regular season play and went on to represent the Southwest in the Cotton Bowl.

The game, which figures to draw a record Memorial Stadium crowd of 64,130 and is generally conceded to be the one that will determine where the 1962 SWC title will go, matches the top offensive and defensive teams in the league.

Arkansas gears its offense to peppery Billy Moore, who leads the conference in total offense, rushing and scoring. The pass-run option specialist is looked upon as the leading All-American contender for the conference.

Texas has been containing all of the heralded players with its iron defense but Moore presents a special problem. He has about every way imaginable of beating the opposition.

Texas' offense centers around big fullback Ray Poage, a fine ball-carrier as well as blocker. Kicking also is a very important factor in Texas' play and in Ernie Koy the Longhorns have one of the top punters of conference history.

Coach Darrell Royal shook up his starting line-up this week, the most important change being to send Duke Carlisle to quarterback replacing Johnny Genung. Carlisle earned the promotion with his performance in last week's 9-6 victory over Oklahoma.

Arkansas has two conference victories—42-14 over Texas Christian and 28-21 over Baylor. Texas has played only one conference game but showed power to burn in walloping Texas Tech 34-0.

Texas is a 5½-point favorite, which Royal disputes. He thinks the teams should be rated even. So many people wanted to see the game that 5,000 bleacher seats were added to the field. That still didn't take care of the demand.

Detroit Tigers Arrive To Take On Japan Pros

TOKYO (AP) — Detroit Tiger players and their wives as well as team officials were honored Friday night at a cocktail party given by Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira.

19TH STRAIGHT WIN

Tigers Top Winnfield 27-0 For 2-AA Crown

The Tigers, paced by halfback Chip Planchard who scored two touchdowns, tallied in every quarter but the fourth in winning their seventh game in a row this year.

Planchard scored on runs of 57-yards (longest run of the night) and three yards. His 57-yarder came in the third period and was the last Neville tally. It started on the Tiger 41. Fullback Don Johnson picked up two yards on the first play from scrimmage, then Planchard found an opening in the middle of the Winnfield line, burst through and went all the way.

The first Planchard TD capped a 70-yard Neville drive that took nine plays. After the Neville halfback had scored from three yards out, Howard kicked the last of three strught conversion for a 21-0 halftime lead.

Howard turned in a one-man performance in leading Neville to i's first score. The sterling Tiger senior did a rerun of his old interception tricks, snaring a wayward aerial at the Wnnfield 45.

Rebels Meet Green Wave In Jackson

The Rebels and Green Wave, their series a venerable 70 years old, meet for the 43rd time since 1893. The game is one of the week end's headliners matching SEC members.

A year ago the two teams played before 40,000 in the first year of operations for Mississippi's new Memorial Stadium. The 1960 game in New Orleans attracted 72,000.

Saturday night's skirmish will find the Rebs bidding for a renewal of the stepped-up offense which flashed past Houston two weeks ago. Guided by quarterback Glynn Griffing, who notched four aerial touchdowns, the Rebels ran and passed for 451 yards in a 40-7 conquest.

Completing 32 of 50 passes for 417 yards, Griffing is second in SEC figures and is third in total offense yardage with 482, this after three games to four.

Arnold Palmer Plays Toughest Round Of Golf

"It was certainly over the most hazardous course I've ever played," said Palmer, "and with some of the oddest players—Bob Hope and a chimpanzee named Charlie."

Palmer flew here from the United States last week to appear in Hope's new movie. In the film, Palmer plays the role of a golf pro on a course in Africa.

At one point—when he was trying to drop a 30-foot putt—a herd of zebras stampeded behind him.

"And then there were those hyenas," said Palmer, "I don't know where they got them, but they kept laughing while I was shooting."

Boston Steered Past San Diego By Babe Parilli

BOSTON (AP) — Quarterback Babe Parilli, mixing his plays with sudden mastery, steered Boston through a dramatic second half comeback worth three touchdowns and a 24-20 American Football League victory over San Diego Friday night.

The favored Patriots, rocked back on their heels and behind 20-3 at intermission, came to life in a display of smoothness which produced its big scoring spree in less than 8½ minutes.

Parilli earlier had launched touchdown passes of 10 and 25 yards to Jimmy Colclough.

Fair Park Wins, 21-0 Over Ouachita's Lions

SHREVEPORT (Special) — The Fair Park Indians kept their District 1-AAA hopes alive Friday night with a 21-0 victory over winless Ouachita of Monroe.

Fair Park scored once in the first half, then exploded for two more in the second to gain the victory which pushed its conference mark to 2-1.

David Worthington was the "Indian Chief" for Fair Park as he passed and ran for all three of the scores.

In the third quarter, Tommy Chiles was on the receiving end of a Worthington pass which accounted for 16 yards and the second touchdown of the night.

One drive carried to the four yard line before it was stopped and the other progressed to the 14 before it faltered.

One of the few bright spots for ouachita was the running of halfback Donnie Powell. He was the main cog in the Lions' offensive machine on both drives.

George Mira Gets Miami Win, 28-24

By GENE PLOWDEN

Tom Brown took the opening kickoff on the Maryland two and raced 98 yards for a touchdown. Miami came roaring back and moved 69 yards in 11 plays to go ahead 7-6. Mira passed seven yards to Nick Ryder for the TD.

Maryland went ahead again when Shiner scored from three yards out and passed to Brown for the two points.

Wildcats Host USL Bulldogs In 53rd Tilt

LAFAYETTE (Special) — One of the South's oldest football feuds is set for renewal next Saturday as USL's Battlin' Bulldogs and the Louisiana College Wildcats square off for the 53rd time.

The '62 edition of this annual battle-royal is to be fought Saturday night at Pineville High School's new Rebel Stadium in Pineville. Kickoff time will be at 8 o'clock.

While Southwestern and the Tampa Spartans were hooked up in a 14-14 tie last weekend, the Wildcats were enjoying an open date and taking extra time to prepare for the upcoming Bulldog clash.

Louisiana College and USL first get together on a gridiron some 52 years age, 1910 to be exact. They played twice that season with the Canines winning both tests, 18-5 in the initial meeting and 19-0 the second time around. Over the years USL has built up a rather comfortable margin with 34 victories, 15 defeats and 3 ties.

The tide, however, has flowed in favor of the Pineville-based eleven the past three years as LC now sports a three - game win streak over Southwestern. The Bulldogs haven't conquered the 'Cats since 1957 when the scoreboard showed a 7-0 count. They discontinued the series in '58, then LC took three in a row.

Under new head coach Frank Young, the Wildcats have posted a 2-1-1 record thus far. They opened with consecutive triumphs over Sam Houston State (8-0) and Troy, Ala., State (28-6), then upset the dope bucket by tying Northwestern State (7-7). Howard Ala., College handed out their setback, 14-12.

Lavorante Rests In Comfort After Third Operation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Alejandro Lavorante, battered into a coma almost a month ago from which he has never emerged, was resting comfortably Friday following a third brain operation.

Dr. De Witt Fox said the latest surgery was apparently a success. It was done Thursday night to restore a bone flap in the skull which had been removed earlier to relieve pressure on the brain.

In addition, a tiny piece of tissue, flown here from the U. S. Navy tissue bank in Washington, D.C., was inserted into the brain-covering membrane. This was to correct a shrinkage that normally occurs with the removal of the bone flap, Dr. Fox said.

The tall, good - looking Argentine has been a coma since he was knocked out by Johnny Riggins of San Francisco at the Olympic Auditorium. He was rushed to nearby California Lutheran Hospital. He will have been unconscious a full month Sunday.

Dr. Fox said it is still impossible to predict when Lavorante will come out of the coma. The boxer began moving his arms shortly after the operation which the surgeon called "a good sign."

'Paul Pender Takes Much For Granted'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"Paul Pender is entitled to retire whenever he wants, but he's taking a lot for granted, I'd say."

That was the reaction of the World Boxing Association's middle-weight champion, Gene Fullmer, to the announcement by Pender, who holds the other part of the title, that he planned only three more fights.

Fullmer's main concentration at present is his title defense in Candlestick Park on Tuesday night against Nigeria's Dick Tiger, but he had to give a thought to Pender.

"His camp and mine have talked of a fight to clear up the championship before," the belter from West Jordan, Utah, pointed out. "He wanted most of the money. If he still does, he'd better stay in Boston."

The Massachusetts 160-pounder had declared that before he retires he wants "that single title bout with Fullmer or Tiger" and he picks Gene to beat the Nigerian next week.

Fullmer sparred four rounds Friday, winding up his heavy work for the Tiger fight. That made a total of 256 rounds since he originally went into training for what was to have been a fight this summer in Bozeman, Mont., with Pender.

When that fell through, Tiger was signed for the WBA title bout.

Football Takes Over Spotlight

By HAROLD CLAASSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Leads in conference races as well as national rankings will be at stake Saturday as college football takes over the sports spotlight without interference from the World Series.

Although the season still is young several of the conference races could virtually be settled by the results. Especially is this true in the Big Ten, where once-favored Ohio State entertains pass-happy Northwestern, and in the Southwest Conference where Texas is host to Arkansas in a night fray.

Additionally all four of the favorites in both the Big Eight and Southeastern conferences are in action with each circuit furnishing one stellar attraction. In the Big Eight, Kansas and Oklahoma are paired, while the most strenuous SEC title affair appears to be the Georgia Tech invasion of Auburn, with the Alabama-Tennessee game on the Vols' field a close second.

Southern California and Washington, who share the Big Six title limelight with UCLA, start their conference wars against California and Stanford, respectively, while the Bruins meander East for a get-together with Pittsburgh. Clemson and Duke, the pre-season picks in the Atlantic Coast loop, play each other in the Clemson den.

At the start of the season a month ago the Ohio State Buckeyes were almost unanimous choices for national and Big Ten honors but UCLA broke that mirage, 9-7. Now the Ohioans are only slight favorites over Northwestern, whose line-up boasts 18-year-old Tom Myers, a sensational sophomore passing quarterback. He has brought the Wildcats to No. 8 in the national rankings while the Buckeyes have skidded to sixth.

Arkansas, seeking a fourth straight crown, will unleash Billy Moore with the hope he will lift the No. 7 Porkers over Texas, who moved into the nation's No. 1 spot last weekend with a 9-6 squeaker over Oklahoma. Arkansas and Texas tied for the conference title last year and Saturday night's victor becomes the odds on choice for the 1963 banner. Each is unbeaten to date.

Bear Bryant takes his unbeaten Alabama forces to Tennessee for a meeting with the stoked-up Volunteers in a game that dedicates the Knoxville playing field to the memory of Gen. Robert Neyland, long-time Tennessee coach. Alabama has not been beaten through its last 22 games, was the national champion a year ago and now is No. 2 in the ratings.

Other rugged SEC pairings have Mississippi and weak Tulane at Jackson, Miss., Georgia Tech at Auburn and Louisiana State at Kentucky. Ole Miss is No. 5 in the national list, just below LSU. Tech, with Billy Lothridge at the helm, has been beaten once while Auburn is undefeated.

Wisconsin, which came up with a bevy of backs to team with Pat Richter at end, must choke off Iowa's floating T attack to maintain its No. 10 listing while Michigan State, shunted out of the elite circle after its surprise 16-13 loss to Stanford, hopes to move back up at the expense of Notre Dame.

The Big Eight, devoid of a team in the top 10 offers a trio of interesting battles that is topped by the Oklahoma invasion of Kansas. Both are considered possible title threats along with Missouri, which is host to Oklahoma State, and Nebraska, at home to Kansas State.

In addition to the UCLA at Pittsburgh affair, the East has such attractions as Syracuse at Penn State, Navy at Boston College and Army entertaining Virginia Tech. The Cadets, who lost to Michigan, have beaten both Penn State and Syracuse. Columbia and Harvard, co-champions of the Ivy circuit a year ago, meet in New York.

Other major games:

A VARIETY of poisonous snakes is displayed by Olin forest technicians W. L. Wilkes Jr. and J. D. Wilson, both of West Monroe. Wilkes (left) is holding a 12-inch pigmy rattler while Wilson holds a huge 63-inch timber rattler. The snakes were killed the same day about one mile apart in Ward 9 of Ouachita Parish. While the difference in the size of the snakes is significant, it is also significant that both snakes are deadly.

BY BRAZEN BRASS

Redskins Are 1st Thanks To Trades

NEW YORK (AP)—A schrewd job of talent-tapping by Washington's brazen brass has catapulted the Redskins to first place in the Eastern Conference during a record National Football League trading period in which 48 deals involving 74 players were concluded.

The 48 player transactions exceeded by one the record set in 1961, although a year ago 79 players were juggled in 47 trades. Both Dallas, with 12, and Cleveland, with 10, acquired more manpower than the Redskins, but the nine corralled by Washington have the statistical edge.

The Redskins most surprising trade involved the sending of No. 1 draft choice Ernie Davis, an All-America and Heisman Trophy winner from Syracuse, to Cleveland for backs Bobby Mitchell and rookie Leroy Jackson of Western Illinois.

Mitchell, used as a flanker back in the suddenly potent Redskins' offense, has turned into a one-man gang. He's first in the league in kickoff returns with a 35.5-yard average, fourth in scoring with 42 points and third in pass receiving with 26 catches.

The acquisition of back Billy Barnes from Philadelphia and linebacker Bob Pellegrini from Los Angeles via Philadelphia also has returned big dividends. Barnes is eighth in the NFL in rushing and the Redskins' leader with 242 yards. Pellegrini is tied for fourth in interceptions and the leading team stealer with three.

Barnes came to Washington along with defensive back Bobby Freeman in exchange for center Jim Schrader and defensive back Ben Scotti. Pellegrini, the only player traded twice, eventually wound up at Washington in a deal with the Rams for a draft choice.

Of the 75 player transactions made, 29 were straight player deals, 9 in transactions involving both players and draft choices, 3 in cash deals and 34 in trades for draft choices only. There were 11 straight player trades, 4 player-choice deals, 3 cash transactions and 30 trades for choices only.

Besides Washington, Minnesota and Pittsburgh also acquired nine players. Los Angeles and Philadelphia each picked up 5, Detroit and New York 4, San Francisco and Chicago 3 and Baltimore and St. Louis 1. Green Bay stood pat.

Cadets Rated To Take VPI

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — The Army Cadets, who upset Penn State last week 9-6, will be heavily favored Saturday when they meet Virginia Tech but Coach Paul Dietzel is fearful of a letdown.

Army walloped Wake Forest in its football opener, then went up against three tough foes in a row and Dietzel insists he has a big problem with VPI.

"This is our week for a letdown, and I'm afraid of it," said the West Point mentor, who noted that undefeated West Virginia had only beaten VPI 14-0 on a pass interception and long punt return.

The Virginia Gobblers, coached by Jerry Claiborne, operate with three units like Army and have defeated George Washington, Virginia and Richmond.

Claiborne, who coached with Dietzel under Bear Bryant at Kentucky, reported two regulars are out of action. They are halfback Dick Kelly and tackle Bob Peak. However, he expected Gene Breen, his all Southern Conference tackle, will return to duty.

There is one change in the Army line-up. Alan Scott, who blocked the vital punt against Penn State, will replace right guard Marty Ryan, who has a pinched nerve.

Fair Park Wins, 21-0 Over Ouachita's Lions

SHREVEPORT (Special) — The Fair Park Indians kept their District 1-AAA hopes alive Friday night with a 21-0 victory over winless Ouachita of Monroe.

Fair Park scored once in the first half, then exploded for two more in the second to gain the victory which pushed its conference mark to 2-1.

Ouachita is now 0-7 for the year and 0-3 in district play.

David Worthington was the "Indian Chief" for Fair Park as he passed and ran for all three of the scores.

	Fair Park	Ouachita

Lynk Carpenter added the first of three extra points.

In the third quarter, Tommy Chiles was on the receiving end of a Worthington pass which accounted for 16 yards and the second touchdown of the night.

Fair Park drove over for its last score in the fourth quarter when Worthington tallied from eight yards out.

Aside from their Worthington-led offense, the Indians also used an air - tight defense to rack up the important victory.

The Lions hooked up on two near scoring drives in the first half only to be halted by the Tribe's defensive unit both times.

One drive carried to the four yard line before it was stopped and the other progressed to the 14 before it faltered.

Other than those two deep penetrations the Lions failed to cross the 50.

One of the few bright spots for ouachita was the running of halfback Donnie Powell. He was the main cog in the Lions' offensive machine on both drives.

George Mira Gets Miami Win, 28-24

By GENE PLOWDEN

Three times Mira's tosses brought Miami from behind and in the fourth quarter four of his tosses carried 73 yards for the clincher.

Mira completed 21 out of 31 pass attempts for 288 yards to set a Miami record. Dick Shiner, Maryland's fine passer and No. 2 in the nation, completed 12 in 20 attempts for 176 yards and that was the difference.

Tom Brown took the opening kickoff on the Maryland two and raced 98 yards for a touchdown. Miami came roaring back and moved 69 yards in 11 plays to go ahead 7-6. Mira passed seven yards to Nick Ryder for the TD.

Maryland went ahead again when Shiner scored from three yards out and passed to Brown for the two points.

Wildcats Host USL Bulldogs In 53rd Tilt

LAFAYETTE (Special) — One of the South's oldest football feuds is set for renewal next Saturday as USL's Battlin' Bulldogs and the Louisiana College Wildcats square off for the 53rd time.

The '62 edition of this annual battle-royal is to be fought Saturday night at Pineville High School's new Rebel Stadium in Pineville. Kickoff time will be at 8 o'clock.

While Southwestern and the Tampa Spartans were hooked up in a 14-14 tie last weekend, the Wildcats were enjoying an open date and taking extra time to prepare for the upcoming Bulldog clash.

Louisiana College and USL first get together on a gridiron some 52 years age, 1910 to be exact. They played twice that season with the Canines winning both tests, 18-5 in the initial meeting and 19-0 the second time around. Over the years USL has built up a rather comfortable margin with 34 victories, 15 defeats and 3 ties.

The tide, however, has flowed in favor of the Pineville-based eleven the past three years as LC now sports a three - game win streak over Southwestern. The Bulldogs haven't conquered the 'Cats since 1957 when the scoreboard showed a 7-0 count. They discontinued the series in '58, then LC took three in a row.

Under new head coach Frank Young, the Wildcats have posted a 2-1-1 record thus far. They opened with consecutive triumphs over Sam Houston State (8-0) and Troy, Ala., State (28-6), then upset the dope bucket by tying Northwestern State (7-7). Howard Ala., College handed out their setback, 14-12.

Lavorante Rests In Comfort After Third Operation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Alejandro Lavorante, battered into a coma almost a month ago from which he has never emerged, was resting comfortably Friday following a third brain operation.

Dr. De Witt Fox said the latest surgery was apparently a success. It was done Thursday night to restore a bone flap in the skull which had been removed earlier to relieve pressure on the brain.

In addition, a tiny piece of tissue, flown here from the U. S. Navy tissue bank in Washington, D.C., was inserted into the brain-covering membrane. This was to correct a shrinkage that normally occurs with the removal of the bone flap, Dr. Fox said.

The bone flap itself has been kept in deep freeze since it was removed.

The tall, good - looking Argentine has been a coma since he was knocked out by Johnny Riggins of San Francisco at the Olympic Auditorium. He was rushed to nearby California Lutheran Hospital. He will have been unconscious a full month Sunday.

Dr. Fox said it is still impossible to predict when Lavorante will come out of the coma. The boxer began moving his arms shortly after the operation which the surgeon called "a good sign."

'Paul Pender Takes Much For Granted'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"Paul Pender is entitled to retire whenever he wants, but he's taking a lot for granted, I'd say."

That was the reaction of the World Boxing Association's middle-weight champion, Gene Fullmer, to the announcement by Pender, who holds the other part of the title, that he planned only three more fights.

Fullmer's main concentration at present is his title defense in Candlestick Park on Tuesday night against Nigeria's Dick Tiger, but he had to give a thought to Pender.

"His camp and mine have talked of a fight to clear up the championship before," the belter from West Jordan, Utah, pointed out. "He wanted most of the money. If he still does, he'd better stay in Boston."

The Massachusetts 160-pounder had declared that before he retires he wants "that single title bout with Fullmer or Tiger" and he picks Gene to beat the Nigerian next week.

Fullmer sparred four rounds Friday, winding up his heavy work for the Tiger fight. That made a total of 256 rounds since he originally went into training for what was to have been a fight this summer in Bozeman, Mont., with Pender.

When that fell through, Tiger was signed for the WBA title bout.

Football Takes Over Spotlight

By HAROLD CLAASSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Leads in conference races as well as national rankings will be at stake Saturday as college football takes over the sports spotlight without interference from the World Series.

Although the season still is young several of the conference races could virtually be settled by the results. Especially is this true in the Big Ten, where once-favored Ohio State entertains pass-happy Northwestern, and in the Southwest Conference where Texas is host to Arkansas in a night fray.

Additionally all four of the favorites in both the Big Eight and Southeastern conferences are in action with each circuit furnishing one stellar attraction. In the Big Eight, Kansas and Oklahoma are paired, while the most strenuous SEC title affair appears to be the Georgia Tech invasion of Auburn, with the Alabama-Tennessee game on the Vols' field a close second.

Southern California and Washington, who share the Big Six title limelight with UCLA, start their conference wars against California and Stanford, respectively, while the Bruins meander East for a get-together with Pittsburgh. Clemson and Duke, the pre-season picks in the Atlantic Coast loop, play each other in the Clemson den.

At the start of the season a month ago the Ohio State Buckeyes were almost unanimous choices for national and Big Ten honors but UCLA broke that mirage, 9-7. Now the Ohioans are only slight favorites over Northwestern, whose line-up boasts 18-year-old Tom Myers, a sensational sophomore passing quarterback. He has brought the Wildcats to No. 8 in the national rankings while the Buckeyes have skidded to sixth.

Arkansas, seeking a fourth straight crown, will unleash Billy Moore with the hope he will lift the No. 7 Porkers over Texas, who moved into the nation's No. 1 spot last weekend with a 9-6 squeaker over Oklahoma. Arkansas and Texas tied for the conference title last year and Saturday night's victor becomes the odds on choice for the 1963 banner. Each is unbeaten to date.

Bear Bryant takes his unbeaten Alabama forces to Tennessee for a meeting with the stoked-up Volunteers in a game that dedicates the Knoxville playing field to the memory of Gen. Robert Neyland, long-time Tennessee coach. Alabama has not been beaten through its last 22 games, was the national champion a year ago and now is No. 2 in the ratings.

Other rugged SEC pairings have Mississippi and weak Tulane at Jackson, Miss., Georgia Tech at Auburn and Louisiana State at Kentucky. Ole Miss is No. 5 in the national list, just below LSU. Tech, with Billy Lothridge at the helm, has been beaten once while Auburn is undefeated.

Wisconsin, which came up with a bevy of backs to team with Pat Richter at end, must choke off Iowa's floating T attack to maintain its No. 10 listing while Michigan State, shunted out of the elite circle after its surprise 16-13 loss to Stanford, hopes to move back up at the expense of Notre Dame.

The Big Eight, devoid of a team in the top 10 offers a trio of interesting battles that is topped by the Oklahoma invasion of Kansas. Both are considered possible title threats along with Missouri, which is host to Oklahoma State, and Nebraska, at home to Kansas State.

In addition to the UCLA at Pittsburgh affair, the East has such attractions as Syracuse at Penn State, Navy at Boston College and Army entertaining Virginia Tech. The Cadets, who lost to Michigan, have beaten both Penn State and Syracuse. Columbia and Harvard, co-champions of the Ivy circuit a year ago, meet in New York.

Other major games:

Midwest: Colorado at Iowa State, Illinois at Minnesota, Michigan at Purdue.

Redskins Are 1st Thanks To Trades

NEW YORK (AP)—A schrewd job of talent-tapping by Washington's brazen brass has catapulted the Redskins to first place in the Eastern Conference during a record National Football League trading period in which 48 deals involving 74 players were concluded.

The 48 player transactions exceeded by one the record set in 1961, although a year ago 79 players were juggled in 47 trades. Both Dallas, with 12, and Cleveland, with 10, acquired more manpower than the Redskins, but the nine corralled by Washington have the statistical edge.

The Redskins most surprising trade involved the sending of No. 1 draft choice Ernie Davis, an All-America and Heisman Trophy winner from Syracuse, to Cleveland for backs Bobby Mitchell and rookie Leroy Jackson of Western Illinois.

Mitchell, used as a flanker back in the suddenly potent Redskins' offense, has turned into a one-man gang. He's first in the league in kickoff returns with a 35.5-yard average, fourth in scoring with 42 points and third in pass receiving with 26 catches.

Short, Minor Recession In '63 Forecast

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—A forecast of a minor and short-lived business recession starting in early 1963 jolted top industrialists at the fall meeting Friday of the Business Council.

F. R. Kappel, board chairman of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., advised his fellow corporation chiefs that a great majority of the council's panel of 20 professional economists expects the business expansion to top out at a record $560-billion production rate this quarter and turn down in the first quarter of 1963.

Presenting the report of the council's committee on the domestic economy, which he heads, Kappel urged a 1963 tax-reform law which would spur employment and encourage investment.

The indicated dip, it appeared, would be mild and brief—hardly more than a pause in the gradual rise of business activity. Some of the industry economists participating, it was known, foresaw small but steady increases at least until mid-1963 instead of a downturn.

The council's consultants, for the most part, expect total national output to drop less than $2 billion—roughly one-fourth of one percent—and to start rising again in the second half of 1963, Kappel said.

Although the report was presented to the 100 industry leaders behind closed doors, as is the council's practice, Kappel provided newsmen with notes on the finding of his 13-member committee.

"It is hoped," this memorandum said, "that steps will be taken to reduce the oppressive burden of taxation on risk-taking, profit-oriented investment, as a basic step toward restoring the lost vigor of our economy."

"The cost of government has become one of the biggest costs of doing business. If it keeps on rising, the cost of doing business is bound to keep rising also," it also said.

Although most government economists expect continued gradual gains in business activity well into 1963, President Kennedy has announced that net tax reduction, along with basic reform of the tax structure, will be among his recommendations to the new Congress. He has proposed that these take effect as of Jan. 1, to speed up the business expansion.

Kappel implied that the slowness of business spending on new plant and equipment could be blamed not only on lagging profits after taxes, but on some loss of confidence caused by the steel-price episode of last April. Kennedy mobilized government pressure then to force U.S. Steel Corp. and other producers to rescind a $6-a-ton price boost.

Southern Women Offered Rich Potential By AAUW

A Southern educator today cited the College Faculty Program of the AAUW Educational Foundation as "an unusual opportunity to make better use of the rich potential of Southern women."

Commending the Association's Program as one that would also help to place qualified women on Southern college faculties, Dr. Susan B. Riley of Nashville, Tenn., pointed to the "acute need" for teachers in these colleges and to the low percentage of women employed on their faculties. Dr. Riley is professor of English at George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, and a member of the College Faculty Program Awards Committee.

The Association's program is designed to encourage mature college women to enter a career in higher education. AAUW branches in the eleven Southern states where the program operates are being urged by Dr. Riley to "seek out women who have the necessary intellectual equipment and personality traits for successful college teaching and to encourage them to apply for the awards."

Fifty awards for graduate study, including full tuition and personal stipend, are being offered for 1963-64. The awards are open to college women 35 years of age or older who are not presently on a college faculty or enrolled in a graduate study program. Candidates should plan to be full-time students and must plan to enter a college or university faculty career on completion of their preparation.

Dr. Riley pointed out that the program also provides a cost-of-education grant-in-aid to the participating graduate schools of accredited Southern institutions. To date, 90 such institutions are willing to enroll College Faculty program awardees, she said, adding that "the cooperation of these schools is an essential feature of the program."

The College Faculty Program was established in November 1961 with a $225,000 grant from the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, as a three - year demonstration program to increase the supply of personnel qualified for careers in higher education. Fifteen Southern women, holding 1962-63 awards, are currently enrolled in graduate work in southern colleges and universities.

Local college women wishing more information about the program may call Dr. Ethel Trice at Northeast Louisiana State College.

DEAR ABBY

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My 17-year-old son has been picked up by the police for loitering and disturbing the peace, and he has been booked on "suspicion." He is a good boy but he got in with a bad crowd. Now he has a bad record already. Is it his fault that he has nothing to do with his time? I blame society. Why don't they have something for our young people to do so they won't have to stand around on street corners?

BLAMES SOCIETY

DEAR BLAMES: The society you are blaming maintains parks, museums, zoos, libraries and even churches in your community. If your son had been TAUGHT to use his leisure time wisely, he would not be standing around on street corners. You need help from school counsellors or your church to untangle a snarled adolescent who should have had more of your time, guidance and attention earlier.

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column where a 14-year-old girl thought she could be popular if her mother let her wear straight skirts, lipstick, heels and eye make-up. Well, she is wrong! She can take it from me, when a boy sees a girl of 14 looking like that, he doesn't think much of her. My mother never let me wear straight skirts, eye make-up or heels at that age, so I saved my own money and bought them anyway. I kept them at my girl friend's house and would wear them behind my mother's back. One day one of the boys at school told me all the other boys were calling me a "tramp" because I looked cheap and common. I took his advice and dressed the way my mother wanted me to. I am sure glad he was honest with me. Now we are going together.

COULDN'T BE HAPPIER

DEAR ABBY: Our cat will soon be having kittens and I was wondering if half the kittens go to the family of the "Papa." Thank you.

S. A. I.

DEAR S. A. I. Yes, if he won't take all of them.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This letter is from a Canadian mother (Oshawa, Ontario) and I regret to say our teenagers are rushing headlong into adult activities, the same as U. S. teens. This is causing Canadian parents no small amount of anguish.

Our son, Barry who is barely 14 years of age and in grade eight was invited to a party by a female classmate. We thought it would be all right for him to go.

When Barry returned from the party he proudly exhibited the prize he had won for kissing the longest — 15 minutes to be precise. His partner in the kissing game was a 13-year-old girl.

I was appalled at such behavior and told him so. He replied, "It takes a party like that to wake a fellow up, Mother."

Ever since he attended the party he has been lippy and insolent. I told his father the lad needs a good cuffing. But his father says Barry is feeling his oats and we should not be too severe with him. What is your advice ? —D.

DEAR D.: You'd better haul Barry back in line promptly — oats or no oats — or there will be no stopping him.

All teenagers test to see what they can get away with. If you draw the lines clearly and firmly and let them know exactly where the limits are, you'll have no trouble.

Eighth graders should be playing pin the tail on the donkey, not kissing games. And where were the parents anyway? Tell your son he can't go to night boy-girl parties, and make it stick.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a physician-mother who keeps tabs on your column. You have the responsibility of a judge, referee, teacher, and priest. It's fun to see you come through with one good decision after another.

I was especially interested in the letter from the young mother of four children who couldn't get out of bed until noon. I'm suspicious when she says she puts toys in their beds and they play quietly for hours. She probably has them in a dark room with the TV turned up.

No young person should be in bed till noon unless the doctor says there is a need — and in my opinion, this is one case in a million. I feel this girl should be encouraged to take pride in the care of her children and home. Hers is an exacting and demanding job, and often she'll get no praise from her husband. The rewards for the mother come 10 to 20 years later. If a wife prepares three meals a day, keeps the house clean, and attends to four children properly she will fall in bed exhausted at 10:00 p.m.

For professional reasons I must remain — ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANONYMOUS: I hear from many mothers, and some physicians, but rarely do I hear from a physician who is also a mother. Thank you for an interesting letter.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a beautician who loves my work. I am an expert at hair-styling and tinting and I make good money.

The man I want to marry is wonderful and we are very much in love. The problem is he just can't hold a job. He makes a nice appearance and is pleasant. but since July he has worked only 40 days. He doesn't know what his problem is and neither do I.

Please don't think we are crazy, but we'd like to know if a marriage could work if the husband stays home and keeps house and the wife earns the living? My fiance likes housekeeping and is good at it. I hate it.

I know this is unusual, but I don't care what people say and neither does he. May we have your frank opinion? — OFF BEATERS

DEAR OFF: The conventional role of the male in our society is that of breadwinner. The female is the homemaker. If you think you can turn this topsy-turvey, try it, but I don't think it will work.

Your best bet is to find out why he can't hold a job—and correct it.

HINTS FROM Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I have one of the new homes with the electric built-in range in the kitchen. I swallowed my tongue, died a thousand deaths, and wondered what was happening to my budget when I paid a repair bill on it the other day.

My repair man told me that the damage was caused by grease getting down into the edges of the little buttons. With 26 buttons on my stove I can hardly afford another repair bill.

Now, you give me an answer, and give it to me quick.

BUDGET HOUSEWIFE

DEAR BUDGET:

The only answer I can possibly give you . . . which all of my friends use, but which I never thought to write about (see how naive I am) is to take a piece of some sort of clear plastic ... such as comes in rolls which we buy at our grocery stores, and entire button section of your electric stove.

Some of these plastics adhere to anything which it touches. Place one piece of plastic over all 26 buttons. You will find that you can still see to press your buttons without removing the plastic!

What this is going to do is: It will keep the grease from popping down into and among these buttons, which goodness knows itself is hard enough to clean besides the damage it does! Also it will keep the vapors, dust, and all sediments from clogging up your mechanism.

When the plastic gets soiled replace it. It's no trouble at all. I have told all of my friends this and they love it.

CUBAN FORTRESS

Soviets Building Radar Network

NEW YORK (UPI)—Reports smuggled from Havana by Western sources said Friday Fidel Castro is building a Cuban "dew line" (distant early warning) to alert his island fortress to any surprise attack.

Soviet "troops and technicians" are busy building an island-encompassing network of radar stations and other electronic installations similar to that built by the U. S. to prevent surprise attack from the north, the sources said.

Cuba is 760 miles long and from 25 miles to 125 miles wide and there was no indication from the sources when the work would be finished.

They said, however, that Castro boasts the Russian-built network will make his position "impregnable" because it will enable detection of any sea or air-borne invasion force many miles out.

The Russians are being used to build the line because "Cuban workers are not trusted," the sources said. State Department estimates of 5,000 Russians in Cuba have noted the fact the Russians live in private encampments surrounded by barbed wire and under heavy guard.

Work on Castro's line has been under way in the Greater Havana area for more than a month, the sources said.

Russians are being used exclusively in building the radar network apparently because either the Kremlin or Castro, or both, not only fear sabotage but don't want word of the project to leak out to a public already restless under growing food and other shortages, the sources said.

They reported the country area around Greater Havana is being cleared of residents to give the Russians more comfortable living quarters, greater freedom of movement and also to prevent civilian observation of their activities.

Forced evacuation of civilians has been ordered from such outlying villages north of Havana such as El Cano, Wajay, Calvario and others.

Other secret reports cited the recent disembarkation in Santiago from three big Soviet freighters of a "large number" of Russians. They were unloaded at night and with the port area sealed off.

Also unlaoded were large crates which from their size and shape were assumed to be rocket launchers.

2 Girls Hurt At Concordia Parish Fair

FERRIDAY (Special) — Two 15-year-old Monterey girls were injured, one seriously, in a fail from a carnival ride Friday at the Concordia Parish Fair here. The accident occurred around 11 a.m. when a bolt came loose on the seat of a parachute ride as the girls were preparing to dismount.

Ferriday police chief Bob Warren identified the victims as Madeline Cross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Swingly Cross, and Esther Kirk, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. David Kirk.

The girls were taken to Ferriday General Hospital. Attendants described the condition of the Cross girl as serious. She underwent surgery for rethreading tendons in her right foot and in both legs. She also suffered shock.

According to Police Chief Warren, the mishap occurred after the ride had been halted about four feet above the ground preparatory to unload passengers. He said a bolt on the bottom of the seat on which the girls were sitting came loose causing them to fall. The heavy metal seat landed on the victims' feet.

The ride was closed temporarily for repairs, and then resumed operations.

The police chief and the Rev. Kirk both said the accident apparently was unavoidable.

Squirrel Hunt Is Fatal For Crossett Woman

She was killed when a double-barrel .12-guage shotgun carried by her husband accidentally discharged, according to the Ashley County sheriff's department.

According to authorities, Mrs. Andrews was struck in the right hip when one of the barrels discharged as her husband knelt down to shoot at a squirrel.

The stock of the weapon hit the ground, causing the blast to be discharged, according to authorities, who added that Mrs. Andrews told a neighbor before she died that the incident was accidental.

Mrs. Andrews was brought out of the woods to a road by a jeep after her husband went for help. But she died before an ambulance could get her to a hospital.

CUBAN FORTRESS

Soviets Building Radar Network

NEW YORK (UPI)—Reports smuggled from Havana by Western sources said Friday Fidel Castro is building a Cuban "dew line" (distant early warning) to alert his island fortress to any surprise attack.

Soviet "troops and technicians" are busy building an island-encompassing network of radar stations and other electronic installations similar to that built by the U. S. to prevent surprise attack from the north, the sources said.

Cuba is 760 miles long and from 25 miles to 125 miles wide and there was no indication from the sources when the work would be finished.

They said, however, that Castro boasts the Russian-built network will make his position "impregnable" because it will enable detection of any sea or air-borne invasion force many miles out.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 5 to 50 cents a bale lower Friday.

Commission houses and New Orleans selling extended losses to more than $1 a bale. Prices recovered partially near the close on short covering.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 5 to 50 cents a bale lower Friday.

Commission houses and New Orleans selling extended losses to more than $1 a bale. Prices recovered partially near the close on short covering.

Trade buying imparted some steadiness to current crop months.

Firms Given New Federal Tax Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — New federal tax benefits were granted Friday to a broad range of major industries in a revision by the Internal Revenue Service of tax depreciation rules announced in July.

The greatest benefits will go to manufacturers of automobiles, machine tools and electrical equipment, to the aerospace and railroad industries, and to operators of hotels, motels, restaurants and bottling plants.

This was the first revision of the July depreciation reforms, which gave business the estimated equivalent of a $1.5-billion tax cut. IRS said it could not estimate the tax savings involved in this revision.

In the tax field, depreciation involves the deduction from income of amounts spent on new production facilities. Deductions are made in annual installments during the useful lives of the items involved.

The purpose of the July reform was to permit faster depreciation, in line with advancing technology, and to give each industry an average useful-life figure applicable to all its depreciable assets. This was a major simplification since business formerly had to calculate individual lives for each type of asset.

Friday's revision was prompted by an auto industry complaint that the July rules would force it to write off heavy investments in short-lived jigs and dies over 12 years — the industry's specified average. In the past, outlays for jigs and dies normally were written off in three years.

The new ruling permits auto makers and other firms to follow pre-July practices in writing off jigs, dies, molds, patterns, returnable bottles, crockery, glassware, linens, silverware "and other subsidiary assets which are commonly and properly accounted for separately" from the bulk of productive assets.

These two other changes also were announced:

1. Electrical equipment manufacturers who also make electronic equipment may write off assets associated with their electronics work in eight years, instead of the 12 years specified under the July rules.

2. Railroads may follow past practices in depreciating roadway small tools instead of applying the industry's 14-year average.

Firms Given New Federal Tax Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — New federal tax benefits were granted Friday to a broad range of major industries in a revision by the Internal Revenue Service of tax depreciation rules announced in July.

The greatest benefits will go to manufacturers of automobiles, machine tools and electrical equipment, to the aerospace and railroad industries, and to operators of hotels, motels, restaurants and bottling plants.

This was the first revision of the July depreciation reforms, which gave business the estimated equivalent of a $1.5-billion tax cut. IRS said it could not estimate the tax savings involved in this revision.

In the tax field, depreciation involves the deduction from income of amounts spent on new production facilities. Deductions are made in annual installments during the useful lives of the items involved.

The purpose of the July reform was to permit faster depreciation, in line with advancing technology, and to give each industry an average useful-life figure applicable to all its depreciable assets. This was a major simplification since business formerly had to calculate individual lives for each type of asset.

Friday's revision was prompted by an auto industry complaint that the July rules would force it to write off heavy investments in short-lived jigs and dies over 12-years — the industry's specified average. In the past, outlays for jigs and dies normally were written off in three years.

The new ruling permits auto makers and other firms to follow pre-July practices in writing off jigs, dies, molds, patterns, returnable bottles, crockery, glassware, linens, silverware "and other subsidiary assets which are commonly and properly accounted for separately" from the bulk of productive assets.

These two other changes also were announced:

1. Electrical equipment manufacturers who also make electronic equipment may write off assets associated with their electronics work in eight years, instead of the 12 years specified under the July rules.

2. Railroads may follow past practices in depreciating roadway small tools instead of applying the industry's 14-year average.

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

DEAR HELOISE:

I clean doors and woodwork that are varnished and shellacked by using four tablespoons of vinegar to half a pail of warm water. I also use this same method on waxed floors. I know that old "saw" about water on hardwood floors but . . . we are not putting water on the floors, just a tightly wrung-out, bone-dry cloth That is the difference. Be sure to wring the old towel out very TIGHT and DRY.

When I first heard of this method, I ran home and tried it on a beautiful paneled door. It is absolutely like a mirror and the dirt that came off . . . you should have seen it! Remember, only four tablespoons of vinegar and no more . . . to the half pail of water.

—Margaret Bowles

DAMP DUSTING

DEAR HELOISE:

For fanatics like me who can't stand dust on their bedsprings, I have the answer. After removing the mattress from the bed . . . place wet newspapers on the floor under the coil springs.

Then use your vacuum and just blow the dust onto the paper! The water on the paper will make the dust stick.

Geraldine Pitts

HOT ROD ADVICE

DEAR HELOISE:

Hey there, Keed. We who belong to hot rod clubs would like to contribute to the "old timers" (guess that includes Heloise) and try to help solve their problems.

When they wax cars, especially with paste waxes, if they will take a box of powdered starch and dump a little of it on the cloth they are polishing with . . . it will sure make for an easier wax job. No effort required.

AN EXTRA SQUEEZE

DEAR HELOISE:

My husband prefers fresh orange juice, and as we budget-minded housewives know, fresh oranges are expensive! I started doing this . . .

I'm probably not the first gal to dream up this little gem . . . but thought that those who don't know about it might like to try it.

—Elva Marie Cohee

AN OLD TUNE

DEAR HELOISE:

I wonder if those who have pianos know that ivory keys need light to remain white. Most homes I go into have the cover down over the keyboard. This is quite unnecessary. Hurts more than it helps. Leave the cover open.

Keep pianos on an inside wall if possible. Especially away from radiator heaters and floor furnaces. Changes of weather and temperature affect a piano.

EMPTY BOTTLE BLUES

DEAR HELOISE:

For those who save pretty bottles and the cork happens to get captured inside the bottle . . . all they have to do is pour ammonia in the bottle, and the cork will disintegrate! Leave the ammonia in the bottle for a week or so. . . .

These bottles are so pretty when filled with colored water and ivy is inserted. If pure food coloring is used . . . it won't hurt the ivy. It never has affected mine.

EGG SHELL OUT

DEAR HELOISE:

Here's a tip for getting a piece of egg shell out of an egg that has been broken into a dish. Instead of trying to fish it out with a spoon or your fingers . . . take half of the empty egg shell and scoop it out. It comes out on the first try!

SAY CHEESE, PLEASE

DEAR HELOISE:

When you buy cheese, cut it immediately into sections which will fit into a quart jar. Put the cover on tight and place in your refrigerator. It will keep for ages without mildew!

—Daphne Payne

CAN'T BLAME HIM!

DEAR HELOISE:

I have a suggestion. My son was over two years old and still using a pacifier. I tried everything to break him of this habit, including commercial preparations from the drugstore.

One day my father put limburger cheese on the pacifier as a joke, and the boy picked it up, smelled it, tasted it, and put it down. He never picked it up again!

—Relieved

GOOD GRIP TIP

DEAR HELOISE:

I have a helpful tip about those gripper snaps on baby's overalls or other types of clothing when they refuse to hold tight any more.

Open them up and lay the round head of the snap on any hard surface, and give it a couple of taps with a hammer and flatten

—Mrs. Josephine Davis

POUNDING RUST

DEAR HELOISE:

Here's a hint that might help someone: I removed all the rust from my chrome chairs by taking a piece of foil and crushing it into a ball. I then scrubbed the rust spots hard with the crushed ball.

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

DEAR HELOISE:

I clean doors and woodwork that are varnished and shellacked by using four tablespoons of vinegar to half a pail of warm water. I also use this same method on waxed floors. I know that old "saw" about water on hardwood floors but . . . we are not putting water on the floors, just a tightly wrung-out, bone-dry cloth That is the difference. Be sure to wring the old towel out very TIGHT and DRY.

When I first heard of this method, I ran home and tried it on a beautiful paneled door. It is absolutely like a mirror and the dirt that came off . . . you should have seen it! Remember, only four tablespoons of vinegar and no more . . . to the half pail of water.

—Margaret Bowles

DEAR HELOISE:

For fanatics like me who can't stand dust on their bedsprings, I have the answer. After removing the mattress from the bed . . . place wet newspapers on the floor under the coil springs.

Then use your vacuum and just blow the dust onto the paper! The water on the paper will make the dust stick.

This does a far better job than just trying to suck the dust up with the vacuum attachment. Gets every speck this way.
